

Court KOs Nixon road fund freeze

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that President Nixon acted illegally in impounding federal highway construction funds appropriated by Congress.

The ruling came on Monday as the appeals court upheld a decision by U.S. District Court Judge William Becker of Kansas City that the President could not withhold $89 million in road funds from the Missouri Highway Commission.

In its 2-1 majority opinion, the Court of Appeals said funds appropriated by Congress "are not to be withheld from obligation for purposes totally unrelated to the highway program."

President Nixon has said he intends to curb inflation by holding federal spending at $250 billion. He has impounded some $15 billion appropriated by Congress for federal programs such as housing, rural conservation and highways.

A government attorney who had represented former Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, told the court in January the President is not obligated by law to spend money appropriated by Congress and that if such spending is to be mandatory, Congress must pass a law to that effect.

Judge Donald P. Lay said in the appeals court's majority opinion, however, that nothing in the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Act "explicitly or impliedly allows the Secretary of Transportation to withhold approval of construction projects for reasons remote and unrelated to the act."

Concurring in the decision was Judge Gerald W. Heaney of Duluth, Minn. Lay, of Omaha, Neb., and Heaney were appointed to the court by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The dissenter was Judge Roy L. Stephenson of Des Moines, Iowa, who was named to the appeals panel by President Nixon.

In his dissenting opinion, Stephenson said his interpretation of the highway act was that Congress "made a deliberate choice ... to grant to the executive discretion in determining the extent to which apportioned funds will be made available for obligation."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and 19 other Democratic Senators had filed a friend of the court brief supporting the highway commission's contention that the money should be released.

Ervin had called the practice of impoundment "contemptuous of the role of Congress in our tripartite system."

Missouri took the matter of impoundment to the federal courts last year after the administration held up money for the completion of 252 miles of interstate highways. Five other states — Florida, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Idaho — joined in the case as friends of the court in support of Missouri.

4 kidnaped in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Kidnapers are holding three men and a boy in Argentina. Each was abducted separately.

The victims are Antony R. DaCruz, technical operations manager for Eastman Kodak Co. in Argentina and the first American kidnaped in the country; retired Rear Adm. Francisco Agustin Aleman; Gerardo Scalma, an Argentine branch manager of the First National Bank of Boston; and Angel Fabiani, 16-year-old son of a wealthy Buenos Aires businessman.

DaCruz and Aleman were kidnaped Monday and authorities said leftist political groups were responsible. Fabiani also was kidnaped Monday, but members of his family said his abductors were believed to be common criminals interested only in a big ransom. Scalma was kidnaped last Wednesday in Rosario, but it has not been determined whether his seizure had political overtones.

About six or eight young men ran a pickup truck into DaCruz's car near the Kodak plant in a Buenos Aires suburb, pulled DaCruz out and drove off in another vehicle, witnesses told police. Authorities said the 43-year-old executive may have been hurt.

Pipeline fate still in doubt

WASHINGTON (AP) — With its seven-word refusal to review the Alaska pipeline case, the U.S. Supreme Court has postponed a legal showdown over the project for at least several months.

The next move is up to Congress, which is considering legislation to remove the right-of-way restrictions imposed by a 1920 law.

The Supreme Court's action Monday means that the separate issue of the proposed pipeline's environmental impacts, which might have been considered simultaneously if the court had ordered it, now must wait its turn in court until Congress has completed action on the right-of-way aspect.

Spokesmen for the government, construction industry and environmental groups agreed the decision would cause further delays in the pipeline case, which already has dragged on in the courts for three years.

In 1968, a huge oil field was discovered on Alaska's frozen Arctic shores. A group of oil companies asked the Interior Department in 1969 for permission to build an 800-mile pipeline across the federal government's vast land holdings in Alaska.

BELLE AVENUE BLAZE — Firemen don oxygen masks as they prepare to enter the smoking home at 204 Belle Ave., where Mrs. Olive (Peggy) Stookey, was critically burned Monday night. Mrs. Stookey was pulled from the blazing one-story frame home by a passing neighbor who noticed the flames. The house was a total loss.

Quick action by a passing neighbor possibly saved the life of a Belle Avenue woman late Monday night when she became trapped in her blazing home.

Sheriff's deputies said Olive (Peggy) Stookey, about 64, was pulled from her burning house by Harold Jones, 251 Curtis St., who noticed the fire as he passed by on his way home.

Mrs. Stookey was taken to Memorial Hospital where she was listed in critical condition Tuesday morning, suffering from second and third degree burns over 30 per cent of her body.

Jones said he and wife were driving home from a function at the Elks Home when he noticed the curtains in the Stookey residence, 204 Belle Ave., were ablaze. "When I opened the front door the fire seemed to jump out from everywhere," he said. "I couldn't get in standing up so I got down on my hands and knees close to the floor and crawled across the front room where she was sitting."

Jones said he could see Mrs. Stookey sitting in a chair directly across the room from the front door and heard her screaming as he crawled toward her.

JONES MANAGED to get Mrs. Stookey from the blazing chair and pulled her out of the house into the front yard. In the meantime the Fire Department had been notified and an ambulance was also dispatched to the scene.

Mrs. Stookey was taken to Memorial Hospital while city firemen quickly brought the fire in the one-story frame home under control.

Firemen were on the scene nearly two hours but were unable to determine the exact cause of the blaze. The house was a total loss.

Firemen said they were notified of the fire at 10:15 p.m.

A large barn on the Joshua B. Owsley farm, Ohio 729, north of Jeffersonville, was damaged by fire Monday evening.

Jeffersonville firemen said about 70 bales of straw in the haymow were destroyed, along with a section of the hay mow floor. There was some damage to the roof of the wooden structure.

Firemen managed to save most of the building and confined the damage, estimated at $3,000, to the haymow and floor.

Seek to plug new leaks on Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate investigations committee, acting to plug a flood of leaked information, said today it will hold no more secret sessions with convicted Watergate spy James W. McCord Jr. All further interviews with McCord will be conducted by the committee staff at undisclosed times and places with a view to beginning open hearings within 10 days to two weeks, a committee spokesman said.

A secret session scheduled with McCord Wednesday before the full committee was canceled.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the committee chairman, said his panel does not expect to hold private formal sessions with any other witness.

Ervin told a news conference there are "indications" that either McCord or his attorney, Bernard Fensterwald, may have been the sources of the leaks which triggered newspaper stories on what McCord told the committee in private last Wednesday.

Monday, after yet another news account quoted supposedly secret testimony linking the White House to the spying, President Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, complained of "irresponsible leaks" and called on Ervin to "get his house in order."

Earlier Monday, Ervin, just back from an absence of several days to attend a family funeral, said at a news conference he was worried about the news leaks. "I think that infinite harm can be done to an individual to charge him with complicity in a case of this kind in the absence of any concrete evidence," he said.

The comments came after columnist Jack Anderson said convicted Watergate spy James McCord gave the committee a written memorandum quoting G. Gordon Liddy, a Nixon reelection official also convicted in the case, as saying the wiretapping was planned at a meeting in the office of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Anderson supplied The Associated Press with a copy of the alleged McCord memorandum, but it carried no signatures or other identifying marks, and its authenticity could not be determined.

However, a source familiar with the matter said the memo appears to be an authentic copy of one McCord supplied to the committee on March 26.

The memo quoted Liddy as saying "bugging and other related operations" were discussed in February 1972 by Liddy, Mitchell, White House counsel John W. Dean III, and Jeb Magruder, another Nixon campaign official.

Major blackout hits Miami area

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than 2 million customers of Florida Power & Light Co. in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties were without electricity today after four massive generators shut down at a power plant, a company spokesman said.

"Due to problems unknown at this point, the four generating units at our Port Everglades plant tripped out of service," spokesman Lory Snipes said.

"Apparently, they were responding to signals from our automatic protective devices, which are designed to protect the generators when they sense a problem."

Snipes said the company began restoring service immediately and hoped to have full service restored within two hours. "We don't know exactly yet what the cause is," said Joseph Scott, commercial manager for FP&L in Fort Lauderdale.

Scott said the power went off at 9:40 a.m. First reports indicated that all power was out in Broward County, in Dade County — except for the Homestead area, which has its own city-run power system — and in sections of Palm Beach County outside West Palm Beach.

Fred Shortell, an insurance salesman whose office is near FP&L's big generating plant at Port Everglades in Broward County said, "I heard this roar and the power went out."

Shortell said he looked toward the generating station and saw "steam shooting straight up in the air 40 feet" from a valve.

Nixon, Thieu end meeting

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon and Saigon's Nguyen Van Thieu were ready to reaffirm strong ties between their governments today at the windup of their first meeting in nearly four years.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon and the South Vietnamese president were discussing everything from continued U.S. aid to the Thieu regime to Nixon's plans for similar assistance to Hanoi.

Stock loss feared in Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snows and severe thunderstorms walloped much of the Southwest today from Arizona to Texas and north into Colorado.

Denver was hit by two inches of snow around midnight from a storm system that had already dumped up to 17 inches of snow on the Albuquerque, N.M., area. Heavy snow warnings remained in effect for the mountains of New Mexico and extreme southeastern Colorado.

Efforts to drop hay to stranded cattle in Colorado from helicopters were temporarily abandoned at spots Monday because of the new storm. A spokesman for the Colorado Department of Agriculture estimated that 15,000 calves may be lost in this severe weather.

Travelers and stockmen's advisories were posted for parts of the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles. Up to four inches of snow was expected.

Winds gusting at 60 to 70 miles per hour swept the high Wasatch Mountains just east of the Great Salt Lake in Utah. Trees were uprooted, trucks and trailers smashed and damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars. One gust at Bountiful, Utah, was clocked at 96 m.p.h.

Strong, dry winds blew sand and dust over Southern California.

Showers and thunderstorms extended from southwest Texas into Oklahoma, to Kansas, western Tennessee and along the Gulf from Louisiana to Florida.

Flooding of the Mississippi River from Dubuque, Iowa, to New Orleans, and along the Missouri River forced additional persons from their homes Monday. Two deaths have been reported.

Meat boycott taking effect

Consumers appear to be biting into the week-long meat boycott with determination, throwing off meat sales by as much as 80 per cent in scores of supermarkets from coast to coast and slicing some prices 29 cents a pound.

"It's like my meat had some disease. Nobody'll even touch it," complained a meat manager in the New York City area, where a check of supermarkets showed the boycott to be about 80 per cent effective on the first shopping day Monday.

In looking back over all the challenges and trials of my experience as a POW, I believe the spiritual sustenance attained through others' prayers, and my own, was the most important factor in my survival.

I believe most POWs feel the same way. Almost all of us are at peace with ourselves now. From what I observed of the performance of others, I believe the main lesson to be learned is that human nature is capable of remarkable performance when placed under duress.

There was a time in October 1966, while I was at the Zoo (a POW camp) in torture, when I just turned myself over to God and I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life.

A persuasive but sinister officer had put pressure on me to stop inciting the others. He finally gave up on the soft approach and had me put in a torture rig for five days. It was very painful. He wanted me to write something about the communications system between the prisoners in the camp.

At the end of five days I wrote something harmless about communications which I knew wouldn't give away anything they already didn't know. I hoped they would accept it because they would have saved face by getting me to write just something. But they didn't buy it.

They put me back in the same rig for five more days and that was the time at which I simply told God He would just have to take over. I had reached the end.

I knew that if I had to write the next time I would write something harmful, so I just turned myself over to Him.

I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life.

As soon as I got that prayer out, this mantle of comfort came over me and I couldn't feel any more pain. Even when they beat the hell out of me and tightened up right to the maximum, I was just as comfortable as if I were sitting in a plush auto.

New state services agency makes sense, director says

By DEAN SCHOTT
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph J. Sommer said creation of a new state Department of Administrative Services makes sense from a business point of view—because it will save money.

Sommer, the director-designate of the new agency, said Monday, "We will be consolidating the services of three departments to produce a substantial savings."

The departments of Public Works, Finance and Personnel will form the nucleus of the new department, which has been proposed by the Gilligan administration to the 110th General Assembly.

The combined proposed budget for the three departments is $67 million for the next biennium, starting July 1, he said.

"It is hoped that through establishment of the new department we can reduce the budget figure," he said.

But, he added, "I am not ready to say what that savings will be. The amount is pretty much a matter of conjecture at this point."

Urge pop tax for war bonus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bonus for Ohio's Vietnam War veterans would be financed at least in part with a two-cent soft drink tax if the chairman of the Ohio House Ways and Means Committee has his way.

Rep. George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, introduced at a skeleton session Monday a bill that would place an excise tax on the wholesale distributor of soft drinks. The tax, which could be passed along to consumers, would be two cents on containers of 16 ounces or less.

It would be 2½ cents on containers from 16 to 32 ounces and five cents for those of more than 32 ounces. Revenue would be earmarked for the retirement of $285-300 million in bonds which would finance the bonus.

A constitutional amendment to pay bonuses of up to $500 is pending in a Senate-House conference committee as a result of disagreement over how the bonds would be retired. Senate Republicans rejected the House version which called for a statewide property tax.

They insisted the bonds could be retired from the general fund. Other discussion has included a proposal to earmark funds from a state lottery if that proposal is approved by voters in the May primary.

U.S. jets pound Cambodian Reds

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes, including every available B52 bomber in Southeast Asia, gave Communist forces in Cambodia their heaviest pounding of the war during the night as part of the Nixon administration's campaign to force them into a ceasefire, reliable sources reported today.

The sources compared the bombing to the attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong last December that were aimed at forcing North Vietnam into a peace settlement. But the Communists in Cambodia are widely dispersed and have none of the industrial concentrations vulnerable to air attack that the North Vietnamese had.

The sources said they were unable to say just how many strikes U.S. pilots flew or how many tons of bombs they dropped. But they indicated about 120 B52s were used in the attack, and that could mean a total of 3,600 tons of bombs dropped.

The U.S. Pacific Command in Honolulu, the official source of information on American air operations in Indochina, made its usual uncommunicative announcement that U.S. B52s continued operations over Cambodia Monday for the 27th successive day.

Military sources said some of the big bombers, along with F111 fighter-bombers, supported Cambodian government troops advancing into the Kirirom plateau 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

The bill creating the new agency has been introduced in the Senate and is presently being reviewed in committee.

Sen. William F. Bowen, D-9 Cincinnati, and five co-sponsors in the Senate offered a measure that would set up a dual quota system in state-supported professional graduate schools.

It requires that 90 per cent of first-year classes must be Ohio residents and 10 per cent students "of African descent." Schools failing to attain those percentages would stand to lose state assistance.

Also among the latest Senate proposals is one by Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, to transfer possession of Ohio's original constitution and certain other documents from the secretary of state's office to the Ohio Historical Society.

Gillmor said the move, advocated by both Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and the historical society, would make the documents available for public display and assure their proper preservation.

A number of U. S. congressmen contend that President Nixon no longer has constitutional authority to use American air power in Cambodia, but Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson in several recent appearances has contended that they are wrong.

He told a news conference in Washington Monday that the administration's objective in Cambodia "is to see the ceasefire come into being there."

Jack Sommers, county Extension service agent, announced that the Junior Fair Board is planning to hold a bicycle race and a free-throw shooting contest at the Fair. These fun-type events are to allow additional youth to join in the Fair activities, Sommers explained.

Alan Wilt and Gene Gustin, superintendents in charge of the Swine Show, received approval to increase open class premiums for 1973. The increase of $4 in first place awards will be reflected through all open class swine premiums.

Other items discussed included the 1973 Fair Book which President Eddie Kirk announced will be going to press soon. All materials must be ready by Friday.

Grounds improvements, including the race track hub rail and gates in the swine barn, were discussed but no action was taken.

Kirk announced that contracts have been let to the Good Hope Lions Club for handling this and to the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club for handling the admission gates.

Senate nixes control bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional effort to take the direction of economic controls away from President Nixon and decree a freeze on prices, rents and interest is approaching a House test, following Senate rejection of a similar proposal.

The House Banking Committee, with exactly half its membership sponsoring such legislation, scheduled an executive meeting today at which the measure may come to a vote, although this was not certain.

Both proponents and opponents of the mandatory legislation said that some version of it is likely to be approved by the committee. Passage by the House, however, was considered more problematical.

The Senate Monday by a 39-37 vote, rejected an amendment that would have frozen at current levels prices, wages, rents and interest rates for 60 days.

The proposal was offered as an amendment to a bill raising from 50 to 60 per cent the federal share of costs of state meat and poultry inspection programs. That bill was passed and sent to the House.

medical services and permit county commissioners to convert county homes into senior citizen centers.

Rep. J. Leonard Camera, D-53 Lorain, and others called for reciprocal agreements between cities in the collection of municipal income taxes.

In other developments, Chairman Michael Del Bane of the House State Government committee called for testimony tonight on a code of ethics bill to require all elected officials to disclose sources of income and the annual amount of their income.

A House subcommittee headed by Sweeney completed work on the measure last Thursday. In its present form, it is similar to a code of ethics bill handed the legislature by Gov. John Gilligan, who called it his top legislative priority.

Ethics legislation hasn't fared well at recent sessions of the General Assembly—due in large part to objections the lawmakers have to disclosing their sources and amounts of income. Others have maintained that at least to start, the legislation should be confined to state lawmakers to determine how well it works.

The bill was amended to include judges after they were left out of the original proposal. Besides elected officials, their appointees could be required to file financial reports under the bill's provisions.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Showers—current and future, dominated the Ohio weather picture today, the National Weather Service reports.

Patches of drizzle and occasional showers continued through the night but rainfall amounts were on the light side, generally amounting to no more than a trace. On Monday evening Findlay had 0.05 inches while Columbus had 0.02 inches. The cloudy skies accompanying the drizzle and showers held temperatures in the 40s.

The morning weather map showed a weak trough of low pressure continuing nearly stationary from southern lower Michigan through southern Lake Huron and southwest Ontario to western New York. The westerly mass of cool moist air now over Ohio will gradually weaken today and tonight as the trough slowly dissipates. There is a chance of occasional showers over northern counties today with diminishing probability of precipitation southward.

A storm traveling through the gulf states tonight will spread showers into southern counties. The showers will be pushed into central sections later tonight.

Widespread cloudiness and showers will hold temperatures within a narrow range today, tonight and Wednesday.

A chance of showers or snow flurries Thursday and Friday. Highs Thursday through Saturday generally from the mid 40s to mid 50s. Overnight lows in the 30s.

misbehaving. For example, if the present moves of the DRV (Democratic Republic of Vietnam) portend further aggression against South Vietnam, I would favor most positive military action to oppose it.

And I regret that we did not use more shock in the initial application of military force during the war.

By escalating slowly as we did, we simply conditioned the North Vietnamese rather than shocking them with the full import of our resolve and the fullness of belief in our cause.

I believe they value quite highly the aid they might get from the United States, which could remove the stimulus that the DRV government may feel to grab aggressively for some necessities.

If they didn't have that necessity, I doubt that, even with the tight security situation, the people would support a DRV government effort to rouse the people to more bloodletting, especially with U.S. resolve finally having been demonstrated.

Also in many respects the prospects of Southeast Asian war seem to have been overcome by events through the establishment of rapport between the United States and China and better U.S.-Russian relations.

You've got North Vietnam kind of left out on a limb by itself. Their main stimulus now is to get a little of that rice bowl in the South, trying to get some of that fruit down there, so they can live and have a little more dignity. If both sides observe the agreement, including the aid part, the south and north can get what they need without war.

If they can get that from the United States, in terms of the three-four-five billion dollars President Nixon is talking about—a fraction of the budget we were putting out for the war year by year—I think we would have accomplished a great thing in preserving peace.

Stock list nosedives

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices nosedived for the third straight session today, and brokers attributed the drop to investors' continuing concern over inflation as well as a technical reaction to last week's rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 10.46 to 925.72 at noon. Declines held almost a 3-to-1 lead over advances in fairly light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks had fallen .53 to 58.36 at noon.

Prices also drifted lower on the American Stock Exchange, and the price-change index had fallen .06 to 24.26 at noon.

Martin Marietta, off ⅛ to 17⅞ on heavy institutional dealing, topped the active issues on the Big Board.

Atlantic Richfield paced a retreat in oils, set off in part by the Supreme Court's refusal Monday to overturn a lower court ban on the trans-Alaska pipeline.

Burnett jury trial goes into 2nd day

The jury trial of Joseph Lee Burnett, 27, entered its second day Tuesday in Fayette County Common Pleas Court. Judge Evelyn Coffman is presiding. Burnett is facing charges stemming from an incident Jan. 12 in Jeffersonville in which he allegedly raped a 30-year-old South Solon woman. He was also charged with sodomy and larceny. Prosecutor Otis R. Hess Jr. and Assistant Prosecutor Robert Simpson called 10 witnesses Monday to present their case. Witnesses called were William Rittenhouse, Dale Sharp, Peggy Bryan, Joshua Mitchell, Garnett Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gieserbreath, Deputy Sheriff Roy Clouse, Sheriff Donald L. Thompson and Ruth Ann Rittenhouse. Defense Attorney Gary Smith recalled Peggy Bryan Monday afternoon just prior to adjournment.

Court places two men on probation

Two Washington C. H. men were placed on probation Monday by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn Coffman. Russell Day, 78, of 307 N. North St., entered guilty pleas to indictments of carrying a concealed weapon and resisting a police officer. He was given authorization to enter the Veterans Administration Hospital at Johnson City, Tenn., for permanent commitment. Day was arrested by city police Jan. 6 in the Emerald Inn, S. Fayette Street, after he brandished a pistol. He also was charged with striking Police Capt. Charles Foster in the face. Frank Groves Jr., 18, of 346 W. Court St., entered a guilty plea to a charge of breaking and entering Herbie's Wine Store on Jan. 15. He and a 15-year-old boy were apprehended by police at about 12:25 a.m. Jan. 15 outside the carryout. Both men were placed on probation to Sheriff Donald Thompson.

Drivers charged after collision

Both drivers involved in a two-car crash on Ohio 753 at Flakes Ford Road Monday afternoon were charged by sheriff's deputies with drunken driving. Arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol following the 3:50 p.m. accident were Clovie R. Kinnison, 49, Bainbridge, and William L. Secrest, 26, Frankfort. Secrest also was cited for driving left of center. According to sheriff's deputies the Kinnison car was traveling north when the southbound Secrest car went left of center on a curve and collided with the Kinnison vehicle. Secrest's car went off the left side of the roadway into the ditch and the Kinnison car traveled left of center into the right ditch. Secrest complained of minor injuries but was not treated at the time. Both cars were extensively damaged. UC veep to retire CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Edward A. Music features prayer breakfast

Twelve members of the Washington Senior High School choir sang several songs at the weekly prayer breakfast Tuesday in the South Side Church of Christ. Charles Shaffer was the director, Lisa Etling and Debbie Coulter, the accompanists, and Jennifer Bailey, the soloist. Eight-four students and teachers attended the breakfast and heard the pastor, the Rev. Charles J. Richmond, remind them of "The Tragedy of Stopping Short" during the meditation period. The group singing was led by Diane Lewis, a WSHS sophomore, and Cindy Van Meter, another WSHS sophomore, was the accompanist. Kevin Blair, a MTHS sophomore, gave the invocation and LuAnn Graham, a WJHS freshman, gave the student devotional on the "The Joy of Being Me." Bruce Gilmore, a WSHS sophomore, gave the closing prayer. Liberal coalition ousted in Ann Arbor ANN ARBOR, Mich. Homestead Exemption office open

A Homestead Exemption Office was opened Monday in the Fayette County Courthouse, according to County Auditor Mary E. Morris. The office is located in the basement, across the hall from the county engineer's office, and will be open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday during April and May. Applicants seeking to qualify for the homestead exemption must file their requests by June 4. To qualify, a person must have attained the age of 64 prior to Jan. 1, must own and occupy the homestead property, and must have a total adjusted annual gross income of not more than $8,000. Total income, as used in the application, means the 1972 adjusted gross income of the applicant and spouse. This includes old age and survivors' benefits received pursuant to the Social Security Act, annuities or other retirement payments or benefits, all interest and dividends. MRS. MORRIS pointed out that the income requirements changed this year. Previously, the income of anyone residing on the homestead property had to be included in the adjusted gross income. She said that only property owned on Jan. 1 is eligible. The eligibility is retained even though the property is sold after Jan. 1. Property purchased after Jan. 1 is not eligible for exemption. Ownership, under the program, is defined as an owner of the property as evidenced by an instrument of conveyance, a vendee in possession under a purchase agreement, a purchaser under a land contract, a mortgagor, one or more joint tenants with right of survivorship, or tenants in common. If the applicant recently purchased the homestead property, the purchase date and the name of the former owner must be stated. If an owner has less than fee simple title, then a copy of the instrument evidencing the degree of ownership is to be submitted when the application is filed. The applicant must submit descriptive information regarding the property owned. Mrs. Morris said the homestead exemption has been quite worthwhile for many property owners, reducing the tax bill for some persons by half. She said the exemption does not place a lien on the property. State income tax funds are used to reimburse the county for the exempted property taxes.

'South Africa' is topic at Kiwanis meet

Fifteen million black people in South Africa are controlled by 3 million whites, the Rev. Gerald Wheat said in his narration of the United Nations - produced film entitled "Twentieth Century Slavery" at the Kiwanis Club meeting in Lafayette Inn Monday night. The film dealt with the inequity of human rights as it exists today in South Africa. The white people there, who believe in complete separation of the blacks and whites, are, according to the Rev. Mr. Wheat, "prepared to remain in complete control and use the blacks as virtual slaves." This "tremendous moral problem" will soon have to be faced and solved by South Africans, he declared.

Opinion And Comment

A trend to arrest

Headlines are comforting, sometimes. The headline, for example, that one large newspaper used on a story about a Highway Users Federation announcement on accident figures: Car Death Rate Hits New Low.

Any sense of euphoria bred by this disclosure receives a dash of cold water when absolute car death totals are considered. For the depressing fact is that, while the number of deaths per 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel has declined, the toll keeps edging up. Despite that new low in the car death rate, there were 55,300 auto fatalities in 1972 as against 54,700 in 1971. That is no vast increase, but it is a figure tragically significant to those 600 additional victims and their families and friends.

The price we pay for auto accidents covers much more than the deaths. About two million persons a year receive disabling injuries. The monetary cost, taking into consideration all relevant factors, is sharply on the rise: in 1971 it amounted to an estimated 15.8 billion dollars; last year it was 17.3 billion.

The decline in the fatality rate per 100 million miles must, therefore, be seen in perspective. It is heartening to find this going down — from 5.3 in 1962 to 4.5 in 1972 — but that trend will have to be increased if the steady rise in the actual rate toll is to be arrested.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Teachers' unions throw weight

Teachers' strikes in most states are illegal. Nevertheless teachers go on striking.

They have struck in Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Chicago, and, most recently, in New Haven, Conn. No doubt the teachers don't get paid as well as truckdrivers and construction workers (who does?), but their essential quarrel is with the taxpayers, not with the boards of education that must work within the limits of what city governments can offer in their budgets.

The issue is something which, in the last analysis, should be settled at the polls, not at the expense of children during any given school year.

In New Hampshire the intransigence of the teachers has boomeranged: the local State Board of Education is entertaining the idea of revoking the certification of any teacher who willingly violates the terms of his or her contract with a local school district. Such a policy would serve to keep teachers on the job in most instances through any given school year, and would, in effect, postpone strike calls to the summer months, when nobody is in school anyway.

If agreements on a new contract could not be hammered out in the off-season, schools might not open in the fall. But at least there would be time for deliberation without sacrificing the children by sudden disruption of schedules in mid-term.

THAT TEACHERS' UNIONS have been getting too big for their britches comes out in big ways and in little. A most flagrant instance of arrogance was the $7 million libel suit brought recently by the American Federation of Teachers and its president, David Selden, against Robert J. Braun and his publisher, Simon & Schuster, for remarks in Mr. Braun's book, "Teachers and Power: the Story of the American Federation of Teachers."

I have read the book, and agree that some of its judgments are harsh. But they come under the heading of legitimate give-and-take argument, and, if the suit were to be successful, it would amount to a serious erosion of the First Amendment.

Robert Braun, incidentally, is an education reporter for the Newark Star-Ledger, and knows the law of libel quite well. The Supreme Court has held that "public people," to prove libel, must show that controversial material, when and if published, is offered "with knowledge of its falsity or with reckless disregard as to whether it was true or false."

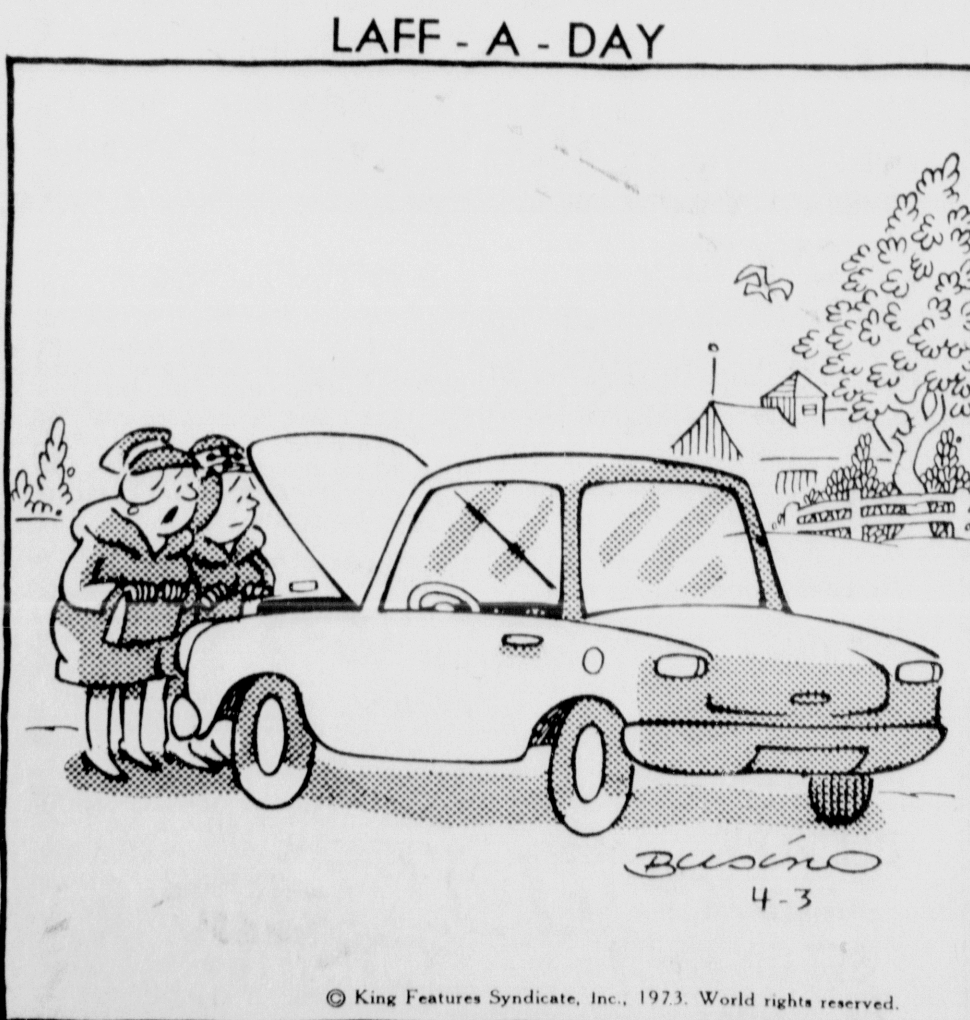

So what did Mr. Braun actually say?

"If my husband were only here, I'm sure I could tell HIM how to fix it."

The AFT objects to a "theme" running through the book that "the AFT is monolithic monster bent upon gaining control over the entire education system of the U.S." That is an opinion; Mr. Braun may very well hold to it. Similar things were said of the CIO in John W. Lewis's heyday.

All unions strive consciously to extend their jurisdiction (example: Cesar Chavez's attempt to cut the Teamsters Union out of the lettuce fields). So Mr. Braun's "theme," if it truly be a theme of the book, is legitimate criticism even though it may be considered by some people overharsh. A union, in my judgment, has no call to try to suppress a book because it differs from an author about a labor organization's power drive.

IN ANOTHER instance, Mr. Braun accused the United Federation of Teachers, the New York City affiliate of the AFT, of "distributing anti-Semitic hate literature." This could be libelous were it not for the fact that a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, in sentencing UFT

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:
Recently all means of communications have carried much too much about the two housewife's meat boycott. Since I am a producer of meat, as well as a consumer, I feel I am qualified to enlighten the public of our high cost of production of all produce from the farm.

The cost of feed supplement has doubled over last year from $7 per hundred pounds to $14 per hundred pounds. Machinery and equipment steadily rises.

For example, since December, 1972, single hog boxes have gone up $11 each. In 1967 we bought a new tractor for $7,000 and now that same tractor is $10,000.

In 1968 we bought another tractor for $9,000 and today it is $11,500. In 1968 a combine was $17,500 and today it is $22,000.

The very idea that we should still produce our meat prices that have been in effect for 30 years is nothing but ridiculous! Bankers have increased their interest rates from 5 per cent to 8 per cent, and machinery companies charge as much as 14 per cent. Clearly, our production costs have so risen that we must have higher prices for our meat in order to produce it.

From my point of view, we were just beginning to "catch up" before this boycott of meat began and since it received so much publicity, we have in turn received a cut in our live pork of $10 per hundred pounds which means a cut of $20 per hog sold. An equally substantial decrease in beef has resulted.

How would you like to have your salary or your husband's cut down by one-third, Mrs. Housewife? This is just what this boycott has meant to us in just one week's time. You see, the farmer is the only one who really gets the full impact of cheaper meat because all the other steps on the way to the meat counter make a profit or they do not handle it.

In December of last year when most of the farmer's crops were still in the President Albert Shanker to jail because of his role in a 1968 strike, had written that "hate literature was distributed with clear anti-Semitic overtones and then, very unwisely, reproduced and redistributed by the UFT." The quotation is from the New York Times for Feb. 4, 1969. If the AFT has any quarrel with the assertion, it is with the New York State Supreme Court, not with Mr. Braun, whose use of the quotation is surely privileged.

Presumably realizing that it has been caught out in an effort to suppress a book, the American Federation of Teachers has asked that its own suit be dismissed "without costs or prejudice." This would be satisfactory to Mr. Braun if it were not for the fact that a dismissal "without prejudice" would still permit the AFT to hold a threat of future suit against anyone who might choose to bring out new editions, say in paperback, of Mr. Braun's work.

There is a principle involved here. The First Amendment is too vital a part of our Constitution to be held under any sort of club when the principle of "fair comment" is at stake.

fields and under water, sympathy was dripping from all the news media, but now that the crops are gathered in and were of poor quality and far short of expectations, where is the sympathy? All we hear now is "cut his price — wipe him out — we have a grocer and they have a never-ending supply — we don't need the farmer!" Ha! where do you think it all comes from??

Last week WBNS sent a reporter and cameraman to my farm to get my point of view on the boycott of meat. In a short time he asked why we didn't keep our meat off the market until it was appreciated. That would be the boycott in reverse!

Speaking of boycott, why isn't the high cost of hospitalization, doctors, dentists, lawyers, etc., attacked as we farmers have been? Percentage-wise, they have far exceeded us in causing the high cost of living. All other occupations have a reasonable profit or they strike until their demands are met.

Just recently nurses in Springfield, Ohio walked out on suffering humanity to strike for higher wages! Why must the consumer expect us to produce cheap food at high cost of production? Should we strike to get our fair share, too? Like everyone else we are no different in wanting to make a reasonable profit for our livelihood, too. All other segments of our economy has risen, but as yet I have not been made aware of any attempt to boycott them. Why me!

I would like to give you a quota from Farmer's Union Newspaper dated March 23, 1973:

"Widely circulated price comparisons are offering food for thought in the current food price debate. Since 1950, if prices received by farmers for cattle had risen at the same rate as:

—First-class postage - cattle would now bring - $72 per cwt.;

—Hourly wages - cattle would now bring - 80.69 per cwt.;

—Cost of having a baby - cattle would now bring - 119.30 per cwt.;

—Hospital care costs - cattle would now bring - 179.69 per cwt.

But the current average price for cattle is only about $42 per cwt.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:
Due to the fact of abusing the privilege of open visiting hours at our local hospital, they have had to put a new visitation policy into effect. I can find no fault with this and agree it had to be done under the circumstances.

However, to restrict the clergymen of the community to the same policy I feel is wrong. I visited the hospital this morning at 10:30 a.m. and was told I would have to restrict my visiting to the regular hours.

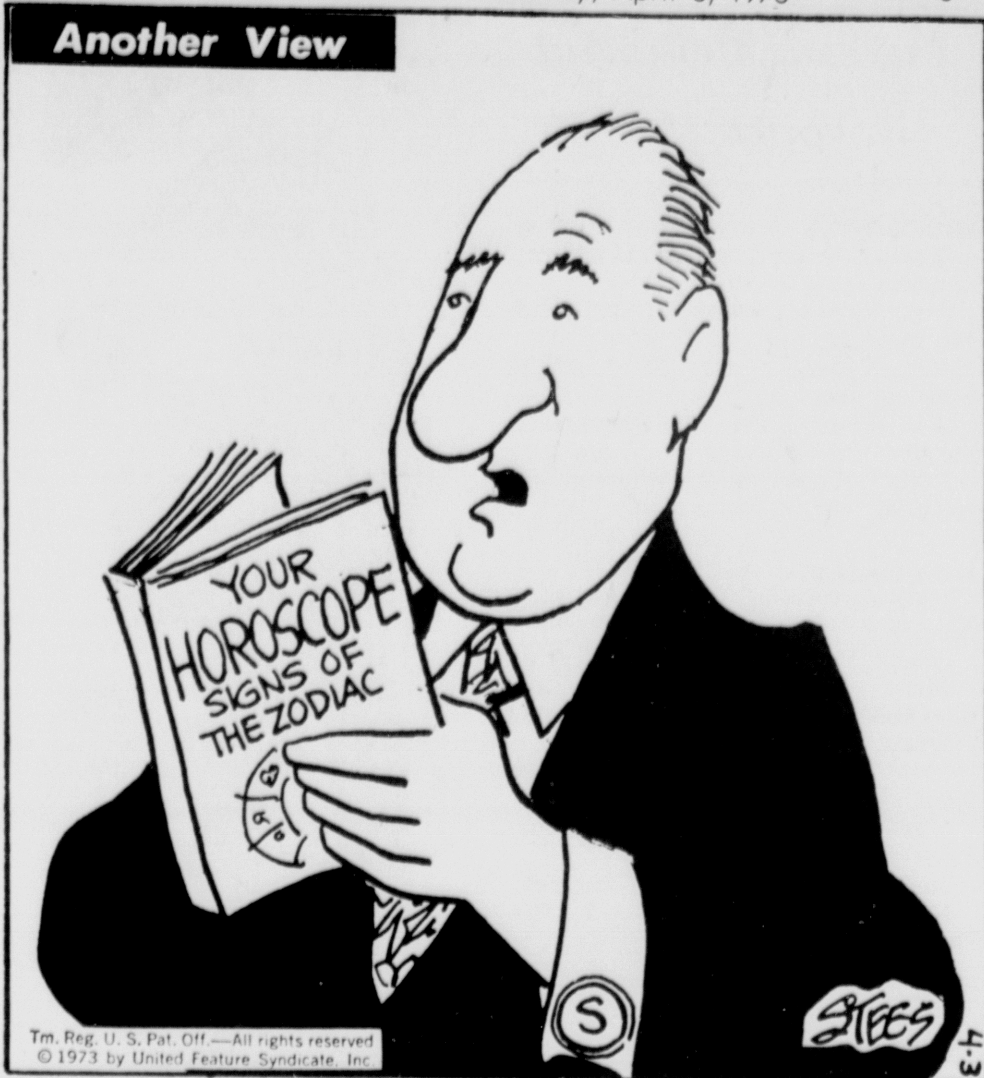

During the past few months I have made over 300 calls to the local hospital. During this period of time I would like to think I have been a blessing to those whom I have visited through the medium of prayer, counseling and the reading of God's word.

If clergymen must restrict their visiting hours, then someone is only looking to the physical nature and forgetting the spiritual.

I have chosen this medium to voice my dissatisfaction because I feel there are those who would like to voice their opinion also.

I believe there is power in the press, so come on ex-patients, what do you think?

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

What 'counseling' is hubby giving?

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 34 years old, and I am 35. We've been married for 12 years. I am a school teacher, and he does some counseling. About six months ago he started to buy me some rather expensive presents. At the same time he himself came home with an expensive gold watch, some tailor-made suits, and finally a new expensive automobile.

I knew he couldn't afford all those things on what he made, so I had a long talk with him and he confessed that he has been getting large amounts of money from a woman. He described her as a high-priced call girl. He said he was helping her to work out her problems, that his interest in her was strictly professional and in appreciation for helping her get her head together she kept giving him large amounts of money.

He has spending a lot of evenings away from home. Does this sound professional to you?

SUSPICIOUS
DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Not very. An ethical counselor usually charges a set fee, and doesn't accept "large amounts of money." It's all right for him to help her get her head together as long as he doesn't take too many things apart.

DEAR ABBY: A former neighbor phoned me yesterday and the first thing she asked me was: "How much did you get for your old house?" I told her. Then she asked me what we paid for our new house. I was so shocked at her nerve, I told her.

I mentioned we were trying to adopt some children from Korea or Vietnam. She said: "Can't you have any of your own?" I told her we felt the world should provide for the children that are here. Then she told me she thought we were out of our minds to "borrow trouble."

Abby, we lost a pair of twin boys when our home caught fire six months ago, and I told her we felt so guilty because we survived and they didn't. She said we were "ridiculous" to feel that way. I told her we had talked to our minister and a psychiatrist and they agreed our feelings of guilt were normal, and only time would erase them. She said all psychiatrists were crazy and ministers are stupid, and we could get over it if we wanted to.

Then she said: "Bill and I want to see your new house. If you don't want to make a dinner, have us over for cocktails soon, will you?"

I said: "Yes, I will." After I hung up I was angry with myself for letting this nervy woman maneuver me into promising to have her over. Should I just "forget" to invite her over? Or am I committed now?

SECOND THOUGHTS
DEAR SECOND: Don't "forget" to invite her. Remember to avoid her.

DEAR ABBY: Forty years ago I fell in love with my first cousin. I was 17, and he was 19. Our parents (wisely?) broke it up.

I am 57 now, and he is 59 and both of us are free to marry. I'm recently widowed, and he's divorced. We would like to marry as we truly love each other. I am through menopause which means there will be no children.

Can first cousins marry in the state of Arizona, where I live? If not, how about Illinois, where he lives?

WALKING ON AIR
DEAR WALKING: A clergyman or lawyer in your state can quickly give you the yea or the nay.

DEAR ABBY: To the correspondent who said wedding presents were out of style—that they just passed the tray and collected money instead.

Last summer we attended a wedding where the festive dinner was prepared by friends who were members of a gourmet cooking club. Their "gift" was preparing the dinner. Another friend donated his services by painting two rooms in the old house where the bride and groom were going to live.

Soliciting gifts of money would be considered bad form in our circles, and we are by no means the idle rich. Imaginative gifts suitable to the circumstances rate tops.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Your Mars in auspicious position. Look for many salutary effects. Day spells action, determination, aggressiveness. Stress your spirit of enterprise.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Stars now promise benefits from past efforts as well as surprising achievement in some presently stubborn area. You can disarm others by a frank approach to issues.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

"Business-as-usual" may be disrupted by myriad details. Do not let this dismay you. Handle interruptions in your innately clever manner. Gains indicated.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Competition may be keen but, where you have the knowledge, don't be afraid to get into the race. Especially favored: research, monetary interests.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Instead of bogging down in routine, try to brighten it with a novel twist. It will work wonders in keening your incentive to better performance.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Especially favored now: communications, travel, meetings of purpose. Earnings can be increased through any of these avenues.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Mixed influences. Some interests seem definitely "off limits," not as colorful as once deemed. Others will progress happily. Keep balance even, attitude thoughtful.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

A shifting of certain situations indicated; perhaps conditions altering. You should be in on the movements, plans. Express your opinions — but discreetly.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You may trip over little matters if not watchful. Have patience and the "vagueness" or seeming inconsistency of things will clear. Manage tactfully.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A notable day for presenting new ideas; also old ones carefully treated to get the most good still left in them. Your talents should shine now.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may run into some snags, obstacles, but you can handle them — and ably. As with Capricorn, pep up and old idea, keep your vision broad.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Day awaits YOUR move. Study situations carefully. The wrong turn could cause a setback, but the right one could put you well ahead of the crowd.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely active, both mentally and physically. You are ambitious and a hard worker but, in striving for your goals, you often go off on tangents impulsively, thus negating previous efforts. Much self-mastery is needed here — especially in controlling a too-lively imagination as well as the emotions. Tendencies toward selfishness should also be curbed before you can fully realize all of your potentials — and they are many! Extremely versatile, there are many fields open to you and, properly educated, of course, you could make a highly successful artist, musician, educator, politician or sculptor. If you choose business as a career, manufacturing would be your best bet.

Ohio Perspective

Puppets used in teaching preschoolers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — They used to say, "As the twig is bent, so grows the tree."

At the University of Akron one of the ways they bend the twig in the nursery school is by letting the pre-school kids play with interracial hand puppets with peelable, changeable faces.

"Puppets may be a way of getting people to deal with feelings that they are unwilling or unable to express directly or openly," said Mrs. Mary Ellen Atwood, director of the nursery school.

What Mrs. Atwood, and her assistant, Mrs. Jean Williams, are trying to do is "to help preschoolers see themselves as worthy, trusting, responsive, competent and creative persons."

"The preschooler," said Mrs. Atwood, "is at an age where he is learning about himself — his sex, race, family, capabilities, cultural and possible vocational role."

Mrs. Williams explained that by using the hand puppets in various situations pre-schoolers "learn that he can control his own behavior."

The puppets are part of a kit developed for a department store chain. Among kit items are cardboard people and commodities which may be positioned on a flannel board. Use of the flannel board material, said Mrs. Williams, gives a child a better insight into his own identity.

"This was not something just dreamed up overnight," said Mrs. Atwood. "It's something we've worked with for four years, and developed these philosophies."

To get away from old racial stereotypes, the background color of the box holding the kit is Lincoln green, and the face of a child of no particular racial heritage is outlined in purple.

The question of racial awareness has interested the two preschool experts for some years. They used to run the nursery school for three-year-old children at Kent State University.

Both blacks and whites, they found, prefer children of their own race in segregated preschool situations out of ignorance of the other race. But, after exposure to other races the three-year-old children tended to drop race preferences by the age of four.

Once, 20 years ago, black children tended to pick white dolls and white social symbols in their play. To a large extent, this has changed. Black preschoolers now indicate a racial awareness.

"We don't just teach blackness or whiteness," said Mrs. Atwood.

Instead, interracial groups of children examine racial characteristics.

Tri-county auto theft ring broken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A year-long investigation of an auto theft operation in three counties has led to the indictment of a retired Columbus police detective and his son.

Indictments against the two and 10 others were handed down by the Franklin County Grand Jury and a search for the men was begun Monday night by sheriff's deputies. Several have already been apprehended.

Edward Kleinhenz, 63, and his 23-year-old son, Richard, were among those indicted. Kleinhenz is a retired Columbus police officer who spent some time working on the auto theft squad.

Each was charged with one count of having in his possession parts unlawfully removed from a motor vehicle on May 26, 1972 and with conspiring to buy, receive or possess stolen parts from May, 1972, to July 18, 1972.

Also named in the indictment were: Carl A. "Bud" Gentile, 31, Samuel McConnell, 28, Charles Taylor, 24, John Fetch, 27, Clarence Hines, 24, and Wilbert Mayle Jr., 23, all of Columbus, and Joseph Bennett, 28, of Ashley, Jack Holobaugh, 28, of Johnstown, and William Cruse, 27, of Galena.

Sheriff's deputies by this morning had already taken Edward Kleinhenz, Taylor, Bennett, Fetch, Hines and Jones into custody.

The investigation leading to the indictments was conducted by the Columbus police, Franklin County sheriff's deputies, Upper Arlington police, and Delaware County sheriff's deputies.

The operation in Franklin, Delaware and Morrow counties learned of persons who had purchased new cars, called the dealer pretending to be owners who were locked out, then sent a person to the dealer to pick up a duplicate key, according to the police.

Those indicted include two auto parts dealers and one garage operator.

Marshall Grange meeting scheduled

JEFFERSONVILLE — Plans for serving and the menu for the Jeffersonville High School Alumni Association banquet will be discussed at the meeting of Marshall Grange at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The proposal made several months ago that the Marshall Grange sell its second floor hall and meeting place, also is expected to be brought up again for consideration. Several of the members have said they preferred to sell the hall and lease a ground floor meeting place to avoid climbing the stairs to the present second floor hall.

The master, Mrs. Edward Rankin, said another attempt will be made to determine how the majority feels about selling the hall, and if the decision is favorable, to seek agreement on a fair price.

It was pointed out again by the master that Marshall Grangers have no desire or intention to surrender the charter.

Supply, demand still rules in beef mart

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP) — With Internal Revenue Service agents showing more interest than housewives in prices at the meat counter, the effort by consumers to drive down prices is bound to have the appearance of success.

The main reason that prices are likely to fall is that the law of supply and demand really does work. When demand is high and supplies relatively low, prices rise. These are precisely the conditions that led to those $4 steaks.

Per capita yearly beef consumption of about 118 pounds today is more than double what it was as recently as 1951. This alone isn't enough to drive up prices if production keeps pace, and until recently it had been. But demand now exceeds supply.

Veal, on the other hand, demonstrates how shrinking supplies also exert upward pressure on prices. In 1954, Americans ate about 10 pounds of veal per person per year, compared with 2.5 now. But production also has fallen.

While there is little question that a boycott can force prices down, there is doubt about the long-range impact. Lower prices most likely will discourage some producers from supplying the market.

If that happens, as Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz warns it could, price pressures later this year could be equally strong.

The dedication of the boycotters will also be a factor. To live without meat in a society that believes meat is a basic requirement for healthy families is apt to produce in the boycotter the feeling that she is sacrificing her youngsters in pursuit of a social cause.

These questions also must be considered: Are boycotters like the fat woman who resolves while standing on the scales never to eat another chocolate? Like the inebriate who resolves on New Year's morning never to touch another drop?

While these questions cannot be answered for a few weeks or months, they are simple in comparison to the complex and imponderable question of what government policy will be.

There was little uncertainty about policy during Phase 2. The letter and spirit of the law were understood, and many prices became relatively stable.

Phase 3 is another matter. Supposedly there is a club in the closet that might come down upon the head of any seller who dared endanger the economy through prices increases. But so far it looks more like a toothpick.

Moreover, great doubts are being expressed that the club ever can be of much use. Businessmen and others note that there are simply too many millions of sellers and products for government to watch all of them.

Business and economic literature is thus rife with discussions about another price freeze that would relieve government of responsibility for individual decisions.

In a democracy, the rule of law is a noble ideal — except when that law is the law of supply and demand, and especially when it is out of balance.

2 bills in Assembly will help teachers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Lawrence Mayher, staff director of the Ohio Commission on Public School Personnel Policies believes two bills in the Ohio Legislature will upgrade the education of teachers.

Mayher said Monday that one bill would require prospective teachers to complete a five-year bachelor-master degree program before being granted a provisional teaching certificate.

The second would create a State Board for Professional Personnel in Public Schools to take the responsibility for training standards and certification. That responsibility now rests with the Ohio Board of Education.

Red China using mental health group sessions

PEKING, China (AP) — The Chinese have their own way of trying to nip some emotional or mental health problems in the bud, says an expert on Chinese medicine.

"Many tensions can be relaxed through 'life' meetings held by the street or other neighborhood units in rural communes or cities, to thrash out personal or emotional problems in a friendly way," says Dr. Ma Hai-teh, an American expatriate who has spent 40 years in China.

Born George Hatem in Buffalo, N.Y., he received his M.D. degree in the United States, specializing in dermatology before coming to China in 1933.

"Various hurts and animosities can be dealt with early," Ma said in an interview.

"These 'life' meetings can involve personal affairs, discussions of family problems, or relationships with neighbors. You could voluntarily bring up some personal problems. But if you didn't introduce something that was really bothering you, others might because they had noticed your behavior or attitudes.

"It is all discussed in a congenial way with no moralizing or stigma," Ma said.

"The community approach is part of the process. It is taken for granted you are part of it, part of the family, and there is a harmonization of the individual with the society."

The "life" meetings appear like some of the so-called encounter groups in the United States or other types of group discussions, but with community solidarity begin a strong theme.

"There seems to be little mental illness in China," Ma said.

"There are only two institutions in Peking for mental illness, with only a couple of hundred beds each," he said.

Maybe, he says, a reason for the low incidence "is the way of life, the relationship between people, themselves, their families, and their work. This could contribute a lot toward being a more relaxed, friendly human being," he said.

Jobs are assured, he explained. So is medical care, the chance to go to school now, and there is far less emphasis on the concept of promotions and ambitions to get ahead of someone else.

Whether there might be higher mental or emotional stresses for Chinese who happened to be more individualistic was not explored.

When a group of 11 Americans visited the People's Republic of China recently, one late request made after arrival was to visit a mental hospital. It was one among numerous late suggestions from the visitors, but was not included in the itinerary, perhaps because all arrangements had been made for other appointments.

Mental hospitals in Peking and Shanghai were visited a year and a half ago by Dr. Victor Sidel, chief of the department of social medicine at Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York, and his wife, Ruth, a social work supervisor with the comprehensive child care project at Albert Einstein.

The Sidel's said patients are organized into divisions and are urged to take care of one another, with patients longest there helping the newcomers, and with emphasis placed on self-reliance "to struggle against their disease," and to try to understand themselves.

Drugs such as chlorpromazine, a calming agent, are used for the more severely ill, and a psychiatrist meets regularly with patients individually or in groups to discuss problems.

Spring sports tempo increases this week

Weather permitting, spring sports activity will increase for Washington C.H. and Miami Trace teams this week.

Two baseball games and a golf match, originally scheduled for Monday night, were postponed due to inclement weather conditions.

On Monday's card, Washington C.H. was scheduled to play Greenfield in a game postponed from Friday. The game has been rescheduled for April 9 at Greenfield, according to athletic director Bob Bane.

Elsewhere, the Washington C.H. golf team was scheduled to open its spring campaign and Miami Trace and Wilmington were to meet on the baseball diamond.

A total of six spring sports team will be action tonight to highlight this week's bulky scheduled.

IN TONIGHT'S action, Washington C.H.'s baseball team travels to Westfall and head coach Dave Pellor's Miami Trace Panthers visit London. Washington C.H.'s and Miami Trace's Reportrix winner at Lebanon Raceway LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Reportrix made her move at the three-quarter pole and held onto the lead for a one-length victory Monday night in the featured pace mile at Lebanon Raceway.

Rose opens second decade

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The years have sneaked up on Pete Rose. Almost without realizing it, he is about to begin his second decade as a Cincinnati Red.

Thursday afternoon in Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium the 31-year-old Rose will be in left field as the Reds meet the San Francisco Giants in the 1973 season opener.

"It sneaks up on you. I didn't realize it until the other day, but this is my 13th spring training as a professional," Rose said.

Despite the passing of time, Rose has lost none of his enthusiasm for the game. He remains brash as brash as in 1963 when he scrapped his way into a job with the Reds and went on to win rookie of the year honors.

There have been accomplishments along the way.

There are the 1,922 hits he's collected, an all-time Cincinnati record, and two National League batting championships.

There are eight 300-plus seasons in a row, and five 200-hit seasons.

"Although this is my 11th (big league) season, two of the last three have been the most enjoyable," Rose said, referring to the pennant-winning years of 1970 and 1972.

Winning is the major goal for Rose, but is barely ahead of hitting on his list of priorities.

"I love to hit; It's such a challenge," said Rose, owner of a .309 lifetime average.

"Realistically, it's probably the hardest thing there is in all sports. You've got a round ball, a round bat and the object is to hit it square."

The challenge, Rose said is what makes him spend extra hours in the batting cage.

"Baseball is an individual game," he explains. "You go up to the plate and no one can help you. There's no one blocking the view or setting a pick."

"It's you against the pitcher," he said, "that's what it's all about."

Rose is determined to make 1973 a super season. His enthusiasm is at its greatest. His confidence, he said, is strong.

"I'm a believer that the only way I can't hit .300 is if there's something physically wrong with me," said the Cincinnati captain.

PUCKETT'S All-Stars erased a six-point third period deficit to send Roberts Construction into the losers bracket of the double elimination tourney.

Andy Richmond and Bob Thompson canned 16 points each for Puckett's, while Bob Barrett hit 18 points for Roberts Construction.

Ron Rockhold's 28-point spree paced Haller's Fire Equipment to its win over Superior Carpet, which was led by Phil Snow's 26-point effort and a 22-point contribution from Dale Jones.

West Union got a 26-point performance from Gary Pommerenck to send Hill's Dairy Kream to the lower bracket. Neil Coleman topped Hill's with 17 points.

Chi Chi wins Greensboro, Nicklaus favored in Masters

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Little Chi Chi Rodriguez has no illusions about extending his winning streak to two with a victory in the famed Masters this weekend.

"Jack Nicklaus will be there," Chi Chi explained.

"When Jack takes a week off (as he did in the Greater Greensboro Open), it's anybody's tournament," Rodriguez said Monday after his onestroke victory over Lou Graham and Ken Still.

"But Augusta National (the site of the Masters) was made for Jack Nicklaus and Jack Nicklaus was made for Augusta National."

The 37-year-old Rodriguez, down to a wiry 120 pounds because of a diet he "hopes will help me live to be 140 years old," came from two strokes off the pace with a five-underpar 66 in the rain-delayed final and picked up $42,000 for his seventh tour triumph in 14 years on the pro tour.

He had a 72-hole total of 267, 17 under par on the squishy, water-logged 7,021-yard Sedgefield Country Club course. Graham, who had a final 69, was one stroke away for the third week in a row.

Members of the 1972-73 Miami Trace wrestling team were honored at the fifth annual awards banquet Monday night in the Miami Trace High School cafeteria.

Co-captains Gardner Cobb and Keith Earley headed a list of six wrestlers capturing coveted chunks of hardware at the awards program.

Cobb, a 185-pound senior who is the only athlete in Miami Trace's 13-year history to gain the equivalent of All-Ohio two years by winning two trips to the state wrestling tournament, was presented with an outstanding athlete award.

THE SENIOR strongboy, who holds six individual Miami Trace records, posted a 21-2 record this season to push his three-year career mark to 60-11 and led the team in scoring with 182 points. Cobb was a champion in the Franklin Heights, Barnesville and Ironton tournaments, placed second in the first annual Miami Trace Invitational, was undefeated in South Central Ohio League dual competition, was a Class AAA Southeastern-Eastern District champ and placed ninth in the state.

Earley, a 145-pound senior who earned his third varsity award, was named the team's most outstanding wrestler. Earley had a 22-4 record and was unbeaten in SCOL competition.

Other special awards were given to senior Rick Cassey, the team's takedown trophy; Junior Alan Fennig, the most improved wrestler, senior Karl Neiswenter, the team's pinning trophy, and senior Jeff Moore, a special award for assisting this season.

Cassey received his fourth varsity letter after notching a 14-8 mark in the 119-pound class. Fennig, a 126-pounder, posted an 18-8 record after finishing 4-15 as a sophomore. Neiswenter, Miami Trace's heavyweight, had 13 wins, 11 of those by pins and Moore served as the team's statistician and assisted head coach Chuck Wallace.

Miami Trace finished with a 6-2 dual and 31-20 overall record. The Panthers placed sixth at Franklin Heights, fifth at Barnesville, second at Ironton, second in the Miami Trace Invitational, eighth in the District and 30th out of 119 teams in the state. There was no SCOL tournament this year due to a schedule conflict.

Former WCH, SCOL ace

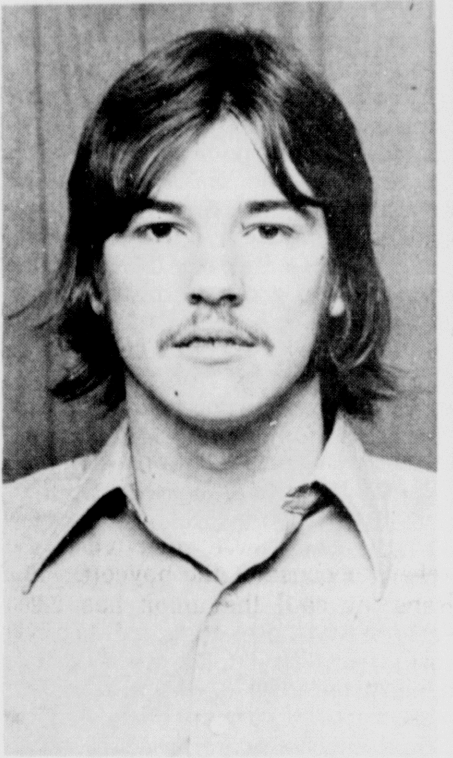

DeWeese to vault at Ohio Northern

ADA — David DeWeese, a former Washington C.H. Blue Lion track star, will be pole vaulting for the Ohio Northern University track team this spring, according to head coach Bob Johnson.

DeWeese, son of George DeWeese, 312 Western Ave., is a sophomore at Ohio Northern University, majoring in history. The 1971 product of Washington Senior High School, who holds the Ohio Northern pole vault record, established a new Washington C.H. track record by vaulting 13 feet in 1971.

ALSO DURING his senior year DeWeese set a South Central Ohio League record by vaulting 12 feet, nine inches in the league meet at Greenfield and won the 1971 Class AA sectional tournament pole vault competition.

He has also been a member of the Ohio Northern University's football team. During his schoolboy career, DeWeese was an All-SCOL split end in football for two years and an all-league forward and most outstanding player on the Blue Lion basketball team his senior year. DeWeese was one of five

Dwight Lamar flatly denies taking money as ace cager

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Dwight Lamar says he took money while playing basketball at Southwestern Louisiana.

"Once this black lady put $2 in my hand. I was on the street," said Lamar, a center of the recruiting violation controversy swirling around the school.

Southwestern Louisiana has been charged with 125 recruiting no-nos by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the 6-foot-2 Lamar is supposed to be involved in 45 of the charges.

"The old lady said she fet she had to help me," said the only player ever to lead the NCAA university and college divisions in scoring.

"I tried to find out who she was so I could give the money back. I never did," said Lamar, a product of Columbus, Ohio, who was back in his home state last weekend to play in the East-West All-Star Game.

"That's the only time I took money while at Southwestern," Lamar swore, telling his side of the story to a writer in a deserted West ressing room.

The player who led the Louisiana school from an obscure college division team to a national major college power in his four seasons talked about his part in the NCAA investigation.

"The investigator asked me only about two charges, about $100 I received after one game and about my mother flying to the campus," Lamar recalled.

"I don't know about any other charges," he said, "but my mother hates flying. She never flew down to see me. I never received $100 either."

"I wish I had $100 right now," Lamar said wistfully, running a comb through his Afro haircut. "I would get my car fixed. It has $92 worth of damage."

Lamar thinks the $15 monthly allowance the NCAA permits its member schools to give basketball players is ridiculous.

"I think they will have to change the allowance," he said. "Some old man told me he was getting $15 a month when he was in school. He said that's when movies and hamburgers were a dime."

Board adopts WSHS slate of objectives

The Washington C.H. Board of Education zoomed through its regular meeting agenda in slightly over 20 minutes Monday night approving routine matters or taking final action on items discussed at previous meetings.

The board adopted a Senior High School statement of philosophy and objectives prepared by a nine-teacher committee in preparation for the North Central evaluation, a school inspection conducted every seven years.

Also gaining board approval were proposals for the Junior High to join the Ohio High School Athletic Association, a new policy for paying custodians when assigned to non-school activities, three teacher resignations, advanced study courses to be taken by four teachers, and a request by the Community Action Commission to use four classrooms and a school bus for the Head Start program.

THE SENIOR HIGH philosophy stresses a flexible curriculum to provide each student the educational experiences he needs to become a fully participating and contributing member of society. It also stresses stability of existing values in American society, and states that the school is responsible for fostering an atmosphere that provides an opportunity for its students to become involved, concerned and responsive to the democratic process.

The nine objectives are:

1. To develop a sympathetic awareness of the problems of the community, the nation, and the world, and to develop the desire to contribute something useful to society.
2. To develop and strengthen the student's ability to meet and solve the problems of life.
3. To promote emotional stability and strengthen wholesome moral and spiritual behavior.
4. To develop self-discipline, acceptance of responsibility and a sense of personal dignity.
5. To design a curriculum that meets the needs of all students according to individual differences.
6. To anticipate within the curriculum the changing demands of our times in order to prepare the

Boycott of meat brings 800 layoffs around Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union leaders around the state said Monday that the meat boycott has cost meatcutters about 800 jobs.

Thomas Ranshaw, president of Local 7, Butchers Union, said that Cincinnati packing houses have furloughed 500 butchers because of the boycott.

Ranshaw said the union has 2,200 members and he expects another 500 layoffs by the end of the week. Farmers are withholding stock from sale and meat processors are afraid to get stuck with cut meat, Ranshaw said.

In the Cleveland area about 200 meatcutters were out of work Monday, according to Frank A. Cimino, president of Meat Cutters District Union 427.

Cimino added that 350 parttime workers have been laid off by supermarkets and other stores and he estimates meat sales are off 10 to 15 percent in northeast Ohio.

In central Ohio union leaders estimate about 100 meatcutters are out of work.

"We're getting calls from our members," said Ralph Roof, president of District 346 Food and Allied Workers in Columbus. "People are being laid off. I don't think the meat boycott is the right thing to do. It's not going to help anybody."

A meat store owner in a suburb of Cleveland closed his shop for the week. Carmen P. Miozzi said he decided to student for his vocation or avocation.

7. To emphasize in the curriculum provisions for the stimulation of advanced studies and progressive self-improvement.

8. To develop worthy use of leisure time.

9. To develop an appreciation for the wise use and conservation of resources.

THE BOARD approved the recommendation of the Athletic Council and Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor for the Junior High to join the OHSAA. Nestor said that the other schools which the Washington Junior High teams meet in athletic events are members of the association. He said member schools are not supposed to play non-member schools. Insurance is provided by the association.

The new pay policy for custodians provides that all custodians will be paid at their regular hourly rate, plus retirement allowance, workmen's compensation, and overtime when serving at non-school activities during evenings and weekends. Nestor said this cost would probably be added to the rental fee for school facilities.

The resignations of Mrs. Don Kirk, Mrs. Robert L. Kunz and Mrs. Elmer Reed, elementary teachers, were accepted by the board. Mrs. Reed is retiring after 16 years of service.

The board gave approval to four teachers, Carl Anders, Mrs. Jeanne Galloway, Clyde Cramer and David Elliott, to enroll in advanced study courses.

THE Community Action Commission request for four classrooms and use of a school bus is in anticipation of funding for the Head Start program. Nestor said the Rose Avenue and East Side Schools probably will be used for the program.

In other action, the board passed a resolution authorizing the clerk-treasurer to apply for advance payment of $150,000 of local taxes, and authorized the superintendent to sell a 1965 automobile which is not being used. The board voted to accept a new station wagon from Billie Wilson Chevrolet for use by the driver education classes and the golf team.

Man slain in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Terrorist gunmen killed one man during the night in Northern Ireland and devastated the heart of a country town with a bomb.

A man about 25 was shot in the head at close range, and his body was left in a ditch near Portavogie, a fishing village in County Down. It was the 756th confirmed death in the nearly four years of communal warfare.

About 100 pounds of gelignite exploded in the town of Dungiven, causing widespread damage on the main street and wounding three girls with shards of flying glass.

Police said a few minutes before the blast a caller claiming to be a member of the extremist Protestant Red Hand warned of the bomb, which was planted outside a tavern owned by a Roman Catholic in the preponderantly Catholic town.

In the Irish Republic, intelligence agents were investigating reports that 95 tons of arms and explosives for the Irish Republican Army were unloaded last week from the small freighter Claudia before the Irish Navy captured her off the southeast coast.

Hoffman trial hit by surprise

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Attorneys for Howard Thomas Hoffman III, who is on trial for first-degree murder here, have had to reassess their defense presentation in the event that Hoffman's 23-year-old wife, Carol, will not be available as a witness.

Mrs. Hoffman was reported in serious condition at Cleveland Clinic Hospital after reportedly taking 50 tranquilizer pills last weekend.

Common Pleas Judge George Buch-

walter canceled Monday's trial session at the request of defense attorneys.

Hoffman is on trial for the slayings in March, 1972, of his mother and father in their Mentor home. He is being held in Trumbull County Jail under $100,000 bond.

Miniskirt 'returns'

By ALISON LERRICK
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP)—While the ready-to-wear fashion showings continue at full blast, one moral is already clear: never throw anything out; build more closets.

The mini is back. So is the midi, although you mustn't call it that. Pants are on the decline for the moment but are still available both wide and skinny. And there are several kinds of shorts.

Pierre Cardin, whose new principle is to show a year's worth of couture and ready to wear in April, is truer to himself than most. The foundation of his day clothes' line is, not surprisingly, a black-ribbed wool body stocking that ends up in a turtleneck. On top, a bulky tweed sleeveless dress with large square armholes, dirndl skirt and a vinyl tie belt. The length is minier than the average.

His new suit, also in tweed, has a straight skirt. The jacket dips down in back and is gathered in front. One has large "belt loops" at the neck to hold the muffler in place.

Pants, when present, are extrawide and pleated. An alternative for the flamboyant is the pants suit of many colors. One leg is red, the other black. The same is true for the jacket sleeves, while the torso stands out in purple.

Chloe, whose 180-dress collection took three hours to show, is as retrospective as ever for next fall. Of what it is hard to say.

Designer Karl Lagerfeld likes a severe look, which verges on the maternally at times. His favorite colors are black, brown, bottle green and maroon with splashes of salmon and teal blue on occasion.

His most interesting idea, which will bring joy and money to lingerie manufacturers, is resurrection of the slip. It's printed to match the dress or shirt, which means you can show off your underwear without offending the eye.

Lagerfeld's knitted group is also pretty, if not highly original. Straight or pleated skirts come with twin sweaters, one three-quarter length.

For evening, try a long pleated skirt with a sleeveless turtleneck, wool muffler and long black gloves.

Opening lead - king of clubs.

It is not easy to make five diamonds, even if you see all four hands. However, the actual declarer made it all right, seeing only the North-South hands, and furthermore the defense could do nothing to stop him.

West led a club. Declarer saw at once that a heart loser was unavoidable and that the fate of the hand therefore rested squarely on whether he lost one spade trick or two.

Losing only one space trick would have been easy had West held both missing honors, but South managed to hold himself to one space loser even though the honors were divided. He was able to accomplish this feat by a maneuver known as a guard squeeze, a play that eventually saved him a spade trick.

He won the club with the ace and played the ace and another heart. West took the heart with the queen and led the queen of clubs, which South ruffed.

In Focus by

Charlie Pensyl

You've snapped the shutter, shot the last picture on that roll. Now the decision is yours. To whom will you trust this roll of color film for processing? Want the best quality you can get? Then there is only one answer: It must go back to the lab of the manufacturer. Kodak film? It should go to a Kodak processing lab. It's as simple as that.

Is time a factor? We have a special courier service that whisks your film off in a hurry to the nearest Kodak lab. Often within three or four hours after you shoot that last picture on the roll, your film is in the Kodak Processing Laboratory safe in the skilled hands of the people who know most about such things. If you shoot your film today, we send it out tonight, it's processed tonight and tomorrow, sent back tomorrow night and you can see your slides or movies on the screen as soon as we open the shop in the morning. How about that?

And for color prints it's about the same story. Much of the color print work is now going out one night and coming back the next. Since it is flown to the Kodak Processing Laboratory in Rochester, New York by private plane, weather conditions can mess up the schedule, but in general the finished prints come back in less than half the time they did just a few months ago. With this additional speed they have also kept the quality tops.

So what do you do when you finish that roll of color film? Bring it to Pensyl's for the best in quality and best in speed. And if you prefer the silk finish on your prints, just ask for it. Kodak does that too.

If you're one of those lensmen who have discovered Agfa film you will be glad to know that we were able to get hundreds of rolls of both Agfachrome and Agfacolor before the price change. There's no problem of processing with Agfa films since the price of processing is included in the price of the film and that processing is Agfa processing (by the boys that make the film). Oh, by the way, did you know that you can shoot AGFACHROME 135 at an ASA of 100 if you wish? Just note in the space for special instructions on the mailer that it was shot at 100 ASA and enclose a dollar in the envelope with the film. See, you learned something, didn't you?

After trumping a heart in dummy and a club in his hand, declarer ruffed his last heart and drew two rounds of trumps, producing this position:

When South now led the jack of trumps, West could not afford to part with a club, so he discarded a spade. South thereupon discarded dummy's club and continued with a low spade, covering West's eight with the ten. East won with the queen and was forced to return a spade. South followed low and won the last two tricks with the A-J of spades.

The Reasons for Infertility

I have been married for a year and a half and have not been able to conceive.

We have not yet consulted a specialist in this field.

We would like to know a little more about the reasons for infertility in a healthy couple.

Mrs. T. O., Tex.

Dear Mrs. O.:

Some people would think that you do not have a right to feel discouraged after only one and a half years of marriage. I do believe, however, that you are now justified in consulting a specialist in fertility even though you both are in excellent health.

It is estimated that almost 20 per cent of married couples fail to achieve parenthood.

There is a vast amount of newly acquired information about the physical and the psychological causes of infertility. The result is that many women in this situation can conceive, with proper direction.

In the female, disturbances in the Fallopian tubes due to infection, or some anatomical kinking, may prevent the ovum from finding its way into the womb for fertilization by the male sperm.

Local conditions and the anatomical position of the cervix (vaginal opening to the womb) can affect the possibility of conception.

A much more complicated problem is a disturbance of ovulation that interferes with production of the female egg.

The male, too, must be thoroughly examined to rule out physical problems responsible for sperm inadequacy.

The amount and the hardness of the male sperm must be studied.

Sometimes, vaginal secretions may have a high or a low degree of acidity which may be destructive to a borderline healthy sperm.

Specialists in infertility now have at their command a great many diagnostic tests by which they can establish the underlying reason for infertility. In most instances, these problems can be corrected with diligence and patience by the doctor and the couple.

The psychological factors are examined as carefully as are the physical ones.

Your physician can recommend a specialist in infertility.

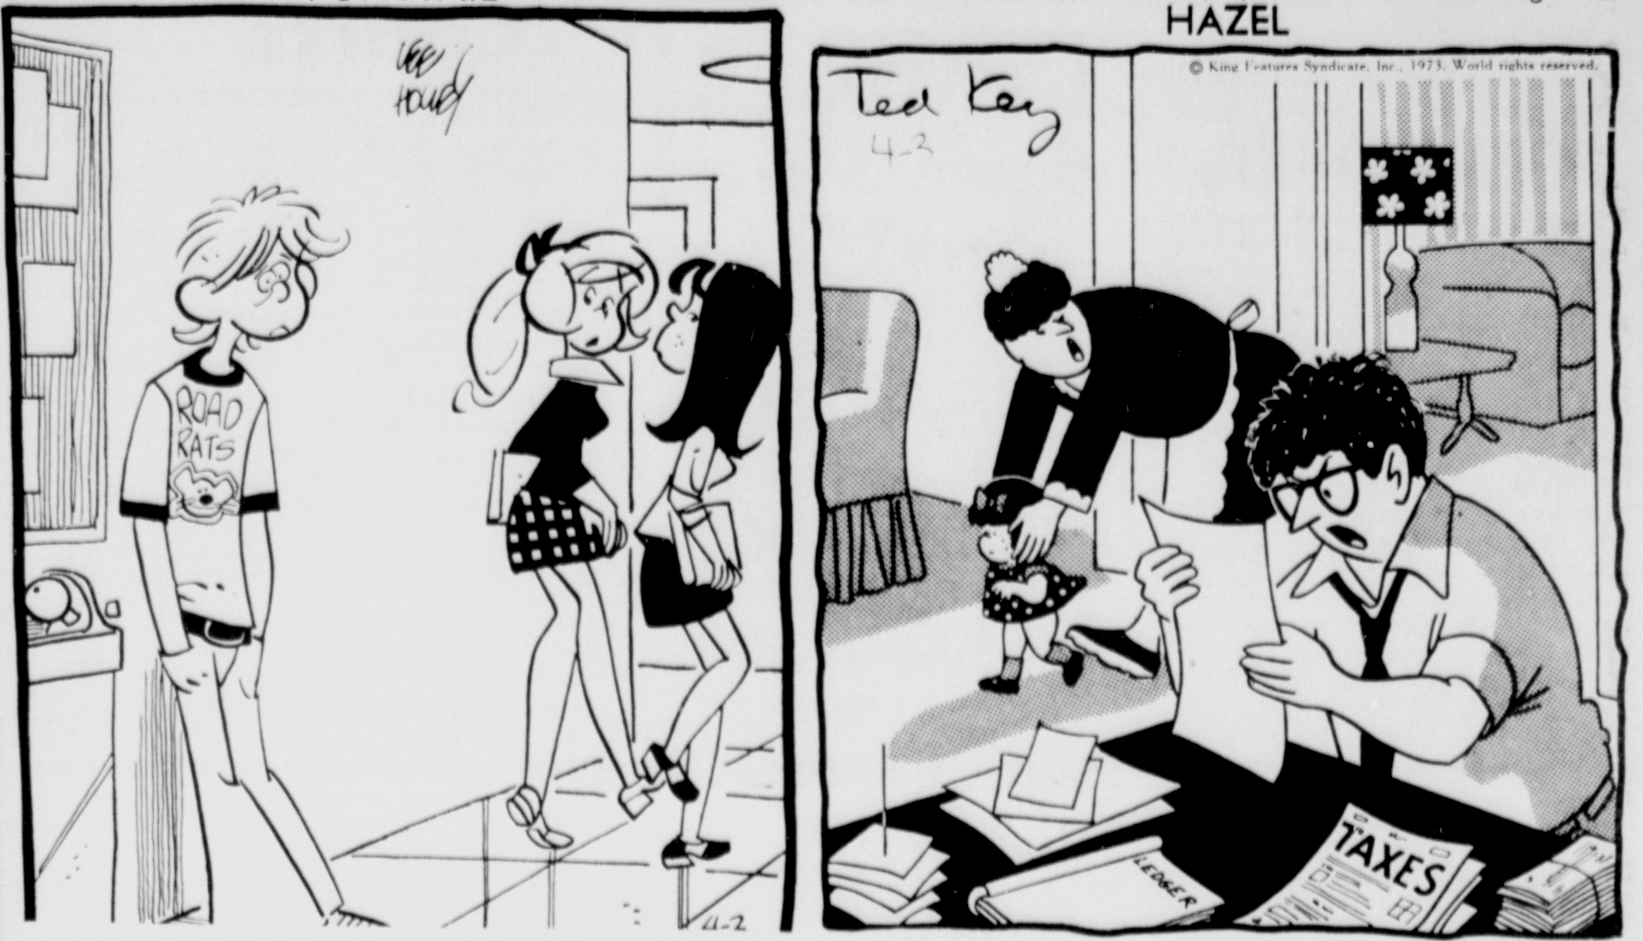

Is narcolepsy related to epilepsy?
Mrs. L. W., Mass

Dear Mrs. W.:

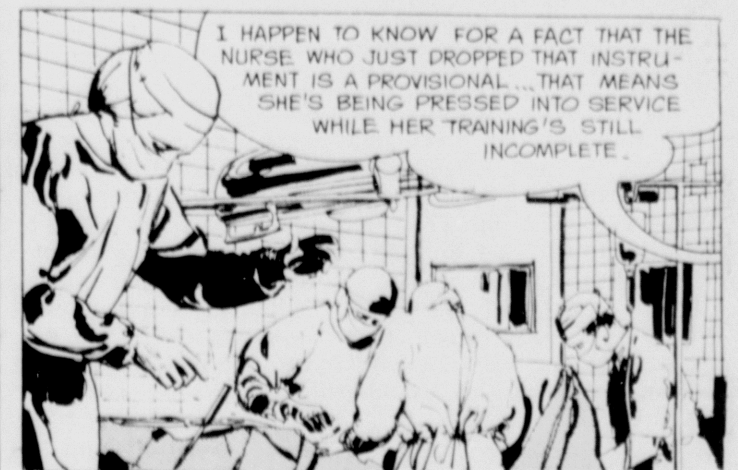

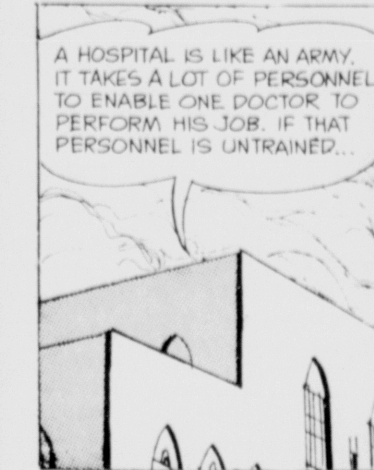

They are not related. In narcolepsy there are no convulsive seizures as there are in epilepsy. Sudden recurrent attacks of uncontrollable desire to sleep occur in narcolepsy. The cause is really unknown, though a vast amount of information is rapidly being accumulated about this unusual condition.

Modern treatment with new stimulating drugs has been used with success in some cases.

Country Club names Miller as president

Roger F. Miller was named president of the Country Club Monday night at an organization meeting of the board of directors following the election of three new directors for three-year terms at the club's annual meeting.

Donald Long was named vice president, and Tony Capuana, golf pro, was re-employed as the secretary-treasurer.

The three new directors elected to the board are Mrs. Harry Thraikill, William Mount and George Walker, the better one of the two nominated from the floor. They replace Bart Mahoney, the 1972-73 president, Jim Vess and Birch Rice whose terms expired this year.

Other members of the board are John Aills, Donald Crabtree, Burnham Light and Paul Thornhill.

There was considerable discussion of adding a swimming pool and tennis courts, but no action was taken by the membership because the final decision is up to the board. It was noted that only minor improvements of the golf course are contemplated.

Also coming in for discussion was the financial condition of the club, which was described as "sound." Dues were raised this year to meet increasing expenses. The new schedule provides: family membership $200, up $35; social membership $75, up $10; golf only membership $135, up $20; and inactive membership remains at $33.

SEVERAL committees also were appointed at the meeting, which was attended by 98 of the 316 members. They are:

House committee — Paul Thornhill, chairman; Mrs. Thraikill and John Aills, members; George Walker, chairman; William Mount and Thornhill; men's golf — Burnham Light, chairman; Mount and Donald Crabtree, members; women's golf — Mrs. Otis Hess, chairman.

Social committee — Mrs. Thraikill, chairman; Crabtree and Light; dance committee — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Douglass, chairmen; men's Night — Warren Pollock, chairman; Ladies' bridge — Mrs. Wayne Shobe, chairman; Mrs. Mac Dews and Mrs. Albert Bryant; golf handicap — John Aills, chairman; membership Donald Long, chairman; Walker and Crabtree.

A covered dish dinner committee will be named later.

Work starting on Pizza Hut

Construction work was scheduled to begin Tuesday on a Pizza Hut building to be located at 409 S. Elm St. The Mike Kelly Construction of Oklahoma City is the contractor.

Sheriff's cruiser action delayed by commissioners

Action on bids for the purchase of two cruisers for the Sheriff's Department was delayed by the Fayette County Commissioners Monday.

Bids were submitted by Rankin Motor Sales of Sabina, and Carroll Halliday, Inc. Rankin bid $3,541.75 each for two Ambassadors, and allowed $1,241.75 for the trade-in of a 1972 Plymouth. Halliday bid $4,300 each for two Ford Custom 500's, and allowed $700 for the trade-in.

The commissioners voted to amend the contract with Hartley Oil Co. to increase the price paid for gasoline from .1760 to .1850 cents per gallon due to an increase of the price of fuel to the distributor. The firm furnishes gasoline and oil for the Sheriff's Department.

The county engineer was authorized to advertise for bids for weed spraying on county roads. The bids are to be opened at 11 a.m. April 22 in the commissioners' office.

The commissioners also increased the pay of Orville and Richard Dixon, plant operators for the Rattlesnake Sewer District, to $6,200 per year. The increase will become effective Thursday.

The commissioners also viewed a section of Grassy Branch Ditch, located immediately downstream from an improvement project which was requested previously by petition. Commissioners said the petition may be amended to include the additional section.

Salaries, hydrants on Sabina agenda

SABINA — Two pieces of new legislation occupied the bulk of the Sabina Village Council meeting Monday night.

An ordinance establishing salaries and a vacation schedule for village Street Department employees was approved after three mandatory readings.

The second reading of an ordinance which would locate additional fire hydrants within the village was held by Council. Tom Woods, clerk of the Sabina Council, said five additional fire hydrants would be installed when the ordinance is approved.

The third and final reading will be held at the next meeting, at 7:30 p.m. April 16.

Council also heard inquiries from several Sabina residents concerning street repairs, but no action was taken.

Routine bills, totaling $2,742.80, were approved.

Clerk prospect being sought at New Holland

NEW HOLLAND — The New Holland Village Council Monday night authorized Mayor Wilbur Frazier to start contacting prospects to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Mary Ellen Schwartz, the village's clerk-treasurer.

Mrs. Schwartz resigned from the clerk-treasurer post effective March 31. She had held the post one year and three months, taking office in January of 1972.

Gary Kirkpatrick, a member of Council, filled in as clerk at Monday night's meeting.

Several New Holland residents attended the meeting to discuss the updating of the village sewer and water systems. Council explained the project is still in the planning stages.

Council accepted a bid of $285 from a person wishing to purchase the village's old dump truck. Council did not name the buyer since he has not been contacted. The only other bid submitted was for $235.

The village street committee was authorized by Council to look into repairs of a drainage problem on N. Main Street and a chuck hole at the intersection of Main and Church streets.

In other matters, Council approved routine monthly bills.

Court KOs Nixon road fund freeze

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that President Nixon acted illegally in impounding federal highway construction funds appropriated by Congress.

The ruling came on Monday as the appeals court upheld a decision by U.S. District Court Judge William Becker of Kansas City that the President could not withhold $89 million in road funds from the Missouri Highway Commission.

In its 2-1 majority opinion, the Court of Appeals said funds appropriated by Congress "are not to be withheld from obligation for purposes totally unrelated to the highway program."

President Nixon has said he intends to curb inflation by holding federal spending at $250 billion. He has impounded some $15 billion appropriated by Congress for federal programs such as housing, rural conservation and highways.

A government attorney who had represented former Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, told the court in January the President is not obligated by law to spend money appropriated by Congress and that if such spending is to be mandatory, Congress must pass a law to that effect.

Judge Donald P. Lay said in the appeals court's majority opinion, however, that nothing in the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Act "explicitly or impliedly allows the Secretary of Transportation to withhold approval of construction projects for reasons remote and unrelated to the act."

Concurring in the decision was Judge Gerald W. Heaney of Duluth, Minn. Lay, of Omaha, Neb., and Heaney were appointed to the court by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The dissenter was Judge Roy L. Stephenson of Des Moines, Iowa, who was named to the appeals panel by President Nixon.

In his dissenting opinion, Stephenson said his interpretation of the highway act was that Congress "made a deliberate choice ... to grant to the executive discretion in determining the extent to which apportioned funds will be made available for obligation."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and 19 other Democratic Senators had filed a friend of the court brief supporting the highway commission's contention that the money should be released.

Ervin had called the practice of impoundment "contemptuous of the role of Congress in our tripartite system."

Missouri took the matter of impoundment to the federal courts last year after the administration held up money for the completion of 252 miles of interstate highways. Five other states — Florida, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Idaho — joined in the case as friends of the court in support of Missouri.

4 kidnaped in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Kidnapers are holding three men and a boy in Argentina. Each was abducted separately.

The victims are Antony R. DaCruz, technical operations manager for Eastman Kodak Co. in Argentina and the first American kidnaped in the country; retired Rear Adm. Francisco Agustin Aleman; Gerardo Scalmazzi, an Argentine branch manager of the First National Bank of Boston; and Angel Fabiani, 16-year-old son of a wealthy Buenos Aires businessman.

DaCruz and Aleman were kidnaped Monday and authorities said leftist political groups were responsible. Fabiani also was kidnaped Monday, but members of his family said his abductors were believed to be common criminals interested only in a big ransom. Scalmazzi was kidnaped last Wednesday in Rosario, but it has not been determined whether his seizure had political overtones.

About six or eight young men ran a pickup truck into DaCruz's car near the Kodak plant in a Buenos Aires suburb, pulled DaCruz out and drove off in another vehicle, witnesses told police. Authorities said the 43-year-old executive may have been hurt.

Pipeline fate still in doubt

WASHINGTON (AP) — With its seven-word refusal to review the Alaska pipeline case, the U.S. Supreme Court has postponed a legal showdown over the project for at least several months.

The next move is up to Congress, which is considering legislation to remove the right-of-way restrictions imposed by a 1920 law.

The Supreme Court's action Monday means that the separate issue of the proposed pipeline's environmental impacts, which might have been considered simultaneously if the court had ordered it, now must wait its turn in court until Congress has completed action on the right-of-way aspect.

Spokesmen for the government, construction industry and environmental groups agreed the decision would cause further delays in the pipeline case, which already has dragged on in the courts for three years.

In 1968, a huge oil field was discovered on Alaska's frozen Arctic shores. A group of oil companies asked the Interior Department in 1969 for permission to build an 800-mile pipeline across the federal government's vast land holdings in Alaska.

Neighbor saves woman from burning home

Victim's burns are 'critical'

BELLE AVENUE BLAZE — Firemen don oxygen masks as they prepare to enter the smoking home at 204 Belle Ave., where Mrs. Olive (Peggy) Stookey, was critically burned Monday night. Mrs. Stookey was pulled from the blazing one-story frame home by a passing neighbor who noticed the flames. The house was a total loss.

Quick action by a passing neighbor possibly saved the life of a Belle Avenue woman late Monday night when she became trapped in her blazing home.

Sheriff's deputies said Olive (Peggy) Stookey, about 64, was pulled from her burning house by Harold Jones, 251 Curtis St., who noticed the fire as he passed by on his way home.

Mrs. Stookey was taken to Memorial Hospital where she was listed in critical condition Tuesday morning, suffering from second and third degree burns over 30 per cent of her body.

Jones said he and wife were driving home from a function at the Elks Home when he noticed the curtains in the Stookey residence, 204 Belle Ave., were ablaze. "When I opened the front door the fire seemed to jump out from everywhere," he said. "I couldn't get in standing up so I got down on my hands and knees close to the floor and crawled across the front room where she was sitting."

Jones said he could see Mrs. Stookey sitting in a chair directly across the room from the front door and heard her screaming as he crawled toward her.

JONES MANAGED to get Mrs. Stookey from the blazing chair and pulled her out of the house into the front yard. In the meantime the Fire Department had been notified and an ambulance was also dispatched to the scene.

Mrs. Stookey was taken to Memorial Hospital while city firemen quickly brought the fire in the one-story frame home under control.

Firemen were on the scene nearly two hours but were unable to determine the exact cause of the blaze. The house was a total loss.

Firemen said they were notified of the fire at 10:15 p.m.

A large barn on the Joshua B. Owsley farm, Ohio 729, north of Jeffersonville, was damaged by fire Monday evening.

Jeffersonville firemen said about 70 bales of straw in the haymow were destroyed, along with a section of the hay mow floor. There was some damage to the roof of the wooden structure.

Firemen managed to save most of the building and confined the damage, estimated at $3,000, to the haymow and floor.

Seek to plug new leaks on Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate investigations committee, acting to plug a flood of leaked information, said today it will hold no more secret sessions with convicted Watergate spy James W. McCord Jr.

All further interviews with McCord will be conducted by the committee staff at undisclosed times and places with a view to beginning open hearings within 10 days to two weeks, a committee spokesman said.

A secret session scheduled with McCord Wednesday before the full committee was canceled.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the committee chairman, said his panel does not expect to hold private formal sessions with any other witness.

Ervin told a news conference there are "indications" that either McCord or his attorney, Bernard Fensterwald, may have been the sources of the leaks which triggered newspaper stories on what McCord told the committee in private last Wednesday.

Monday, after yet another news account quoted supposedly secret testimony linking the White House to the spying, President Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, complained of "irresponsible leaks" and called on Ervin to "get his house in order."

Earlier Monday, Ervin, just back from an absence of several days to attend a family funeral, said at a news conference he was worried about the news leaks. "I think that infinite harm can be done to an individual to charge him with complicity in a case of this kind in the absence of any concrete evidence," he said.

The comments came after columnist Jack Anderson said convicted Watergate spy James McCord gave the committee a written memorandum quoting G. Gordon Liddy, a Nixon reelection official also convicted in the case, as saying the wiretapping was planned at a meeting in the office of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Anderson supplied The Associated Press with a copy of the alleged McCord memorandum, but it carried no signatures or other identifying marks, and its authenticity could not be determined.

However, a source familiar with the matter said the memo appears to be an authentic copy of one McCord supplied to the committee on March 26.

The memo quoted Liddy as saying "bugging and other related operations" were discussed in February 1972 by Liddy, Mitchell, White House counsel John W. Dean III, and Jeb Magruder, another Nixon campaign official.

Calley asks new trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr. has asked the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, the military's highest court, to grant a new trial or reverse his murder conviction stemming from the My Lai massacre.

Despite all the torture and mistreatment we received as prisoners of war, I would not now personally oppose reconstruction aid to North Vietnam, as I understand it is envisioned by the president.

I think that such aid would be world-recognized as an act taken in the interests of peace, containing some element of Christian forgiveness.

The act should not be interpreted as excusing or condoning in any way either the aggression against South Vietnam or the mistreatment they applied to us.

I'm just as much in favor of bombing the hell out of them if they start

Major blackout hits Miami area

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than 2 million customers of Florida Power & Light Co. in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties were without electricity today after four massive generators shut down at a power plant, a company spokesman said.

"Due to problems unknown at this point, the four generating units at our Port Everglades plant tripped out of service," spokesman Lory Snipes said. "Apparently, they were responding to signals from our automatic protective devices, which are designed to protect the generators when they sense a problem."

Snipes said the company began restoring service immediately and hoped to have full service restored within two hours. "We don't know exactly yet what the cause is," said Joseph Scott, commercial manager for FP&L in Fort Lauderdale.

Scott said the power went off at 9:40 a.m. First reports indicated that all power was out in Broward County, in Dade County — except for the Homestead area, which has its own city-run power system — and in sections of Palm Beach County outside West Palm Beach.

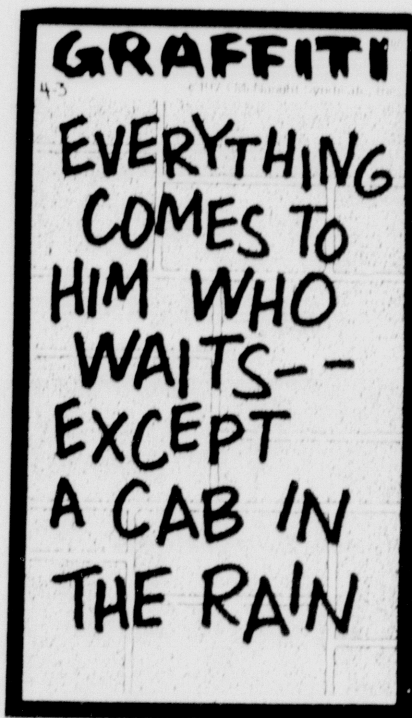

Fred Shortell, an insurance salesman whose office is near FP&L's big generating plant at Port Everglades in Broward County said, "I heard this roar and the power went out."

Shortell said he looked toward the generating station and saw "steam shooting straight up in the air 40 feet" from a valve.

Nixon, Thieu end meeting

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon and Saigon's Nguyen Van Thieu were ready to reaffirm strong ties between their governments today at the windup of their first meeting in nearly four years.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon and the South Vietnamese president were discussing everything from continued U.S. aid to the Thieu regime to Nixon's plans for similar assistance to Hanoi.

"It's like my meat had some disease. Nobody'll even touch it," complained a meat manager in the New York City area, where a check of supermarkets showed the boycott to be about 80 per cent effective on the first shopping day Monday.

As told to Kathryn Johnson
Associated Press Writer

In looking back over all the challenges and trials of my experience as a POW, I believe the spiritual sustenance attained through others' prayers, and my own, was the most important factor in my survival.

I believe most POWs feel the same way. Almost all of us are at peace with ourselves now. From what I observed of the performance of others, I believe the main lesson to be learned is that human nature is capable of remarkable performance when placed under duress.

There was a time in October 1966, while I was at the Zoo (a POW camp) in torture, when I just turned myself over to God and I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life.

A persuasive but sinister officer had put pressure on me to stop inciting the others. He finally gave up on the soft approach and had me put in a torture rig for five days. It was very painful. He wanted me to write something about the communications system between the prisoners in the camp.

At the end of five days I wrote something harmless about communications which I knew wouldn't give away anything they already didn't know. I hoped they would accept it because they would have saved face by getting me to write just something. But they didn't buy it.

They put me back in the same rig for five more days and that was the time at which I simply told God He would just have to take over. I had reached the end.

I knew that if I had to write the next time I would write something harmful, so I just turned myself over to Him.

I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life.

As soon as I got that prayer out, this mantle of comfort came over me and I couldn't feel any more pain. Even when they beat the hell out of me and tightened up right to the maximum, I was just as comfortable as if I were sitting in a plush auto.

U.S. jets pound Cambodian Reds

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes, including every available B52 bomber in Southeast Asia, gave Communist forces in Cambodia their heaviest pounding of the war during the night as part of the Nixon administration's campaign to force them into a cease-fire, reliable sources reported today.

The sources compared the bombing to the attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong last December that were aimed at forcing North Vietnam into a peace settlement. But the Communists in Cambodia are widely dispersed and have none of the industrial concentrations vulnerable to air attack that the North Vietnamese had.

The sources said they were unable to say just how many strikes U.S. pilots flew or how many tons of bombs they dropped. But they indicated about 120 B52s were used in the attack, and that could mean a total of 3,600 tons of bombs dropped.

The U.S. Pacific Command in Honolulu, the official source of information on American air operations in Indochina, made its usual uncommunicative announcement that U.S. B52s continued operations over Cambodia Monday for the 27th successive day.

Military sources said some of the big bombers, along with F111 fighter-bombers, supported Cambodian government troops advancing into the Kirirrom plateau 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

The government troops reportedly reached the plateau and found a deserted base camp of the Khmer Rouge Communists. But meanwhile other government forces south of Phnom Penh continued to retreat and abandoned the garrison town of Chambak, 30 miles south of the capital.

A number of U. S. congressmen contend that President Nixon no longer has constitutional authority to use American air power in Cambodia, but Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson in several recent appearances has contended that they are wrong.

He told a news conference in Washington Monday that the administration's objective in Cambodia "is to see the ceasefire come into being there."

"If criteria ever existed to back a presidential declaration—with our energy crisis and tremendous problems with a balance of payments—it does now," Egan said in Juneau.

In Bellevue, Wash., Edward L. Patton, president of Alyeska, said the court decision makes it necessary for Congress to amend the 1920 law to allow construction of the pipeline.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Showers—current and future, dominated the Ohio weather picture today, the National Weather Service reports.

Patches of drizzle and occasional showers continued through the night but rainfall amounts were on the light side, generally amounting to no more than a trace. On Monday evening Findlay had 0.05 inches while Columbus had 0.02 inches. The cloudy skies accompanying the drizzle and showers held temperatures in the 40s.

The morning weather map showed a weak trough of low pressure continuing nearly stationary from southern lower Michigan through southern Lake Huron and southwest Ontario to western New York. The westerly mass of cool moist air now over Ohio will gradually weaken today and tonight as the trough slowly dissipates. There is a chance of occasional showers over northern counties today with diminishing probability of precipitation southward.

A storm traveling through the gulf states tonight will spread showers into southern counties. The showers will be pushed into central sections later tonight.

Widespread cloudiness and showers will hold temperatures within a narrow range today, tonight and Wednesday.

A chance of showers or snow flurries Thursday and Friday. Highs Thursday through Saturday generally from the mid 40s to mid 50s. Overnight lows in the 30s.

misbehaving. For example, if the present moves of the DRV (Democratic Republic of Vietnam) portend further aggression against South Vietnam, I would favor most positive military action to oppose it.

And I regret that we did not use more shock in the initial application of military force during the war.

By escalating slowly as we did, we simply conditioned the North Vietnamese rather than shocking them with the full import of our resolve and the fullness of belief in our cause.

I believe they value quite highly the aid they might get from the United States, which could remove the stimulus that the DRV government may feel to grab aggressively for some necessities.

If they didn't have that necessity, I doubt that, even with the tight security situation, the people would support a DRV government effort to rouse the people to more bloodletting, especially with U.S. resolve finally having been demonstrated.

Also in many respects the prospects of Southeast Asian war seem to have been overcome by events through the establishment of rapport between the United States and China and better U.S.-Russian relations.

You've got North Vietnam kind of left out on a limb by itself. Their main stimulus now is to get a little of that rice bowl in the South, trying to get some of that fruit down there, so they can live and have a little more dignity. If both sides observe the agreement, including the aid part, the south and north can get what they need without war.

If they can get that from the United States, in terms of the three-four-five billion dollars President Nixon is talking about—a fraction of the budget we were putting out for the war year by year—I think we would have accomplished a great thing in preserving peace.

Stock list nosedives

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices nosedived for the third straight session today, and brokers attributed the drop to investors' continuing concern over inflation as well as a technical reaction to last week's rally. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 10.46 to 925.72 at noon. Declines held almost a 3-to-1 lead over advances in fairly light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks had fallen .53 to 58.36 at noon.

Prices also drifted lower on the American Stock Exchange, and the price-change index had fallen .06 to 24.26 at noon.

Martin Marietta, off 1/8 to 17 1/2 on heavy institutional dealing, topped the active issues on the Big Board.

Atlantic Richfield paced a retreat in oils, set off in part by the Supreme Court's refusal Monday to overturn a lower court ban on the trans-Alaska pipeline.

Plan shuffle of Amtrak rail fares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak, the National Railroad Passenger Corp., said Monday it will raise some Western and Midwest fares 10 or 12 per cent and reduce some fares in other areas as much as 19 per cent April 29.

Western fares, which historically have been lower than other parts of the nation, will increase up to 10 per cent, for both coach and first class, on routes between Chicago and Denver, and between Seattle and Los Angeles, Amtrak said.

Long distance round trip fares in first class and coal class, between the Midwest and the west coast, will be increased 6 to 12 per cent.

The Panama Limited, between Chicago and New Orleans, will offer a 19 per cent reduction in coach fare.

Reduced fares for groups of 15 or more, for round trips, will be offered throughout the country. Previously these discounts varied widely, and on many of the railroads now in the Amtrak system they were not even available.

Amtrak said that starting April 29 family fares will apply only on trips starting on Mondays through Thursdays.

Bob Braun show booked for Fair

Bob Braun and the WLW 50-50 Club cast and orchestra will provide the grandstand entertainment for the opening of the Fayette County Fair on Sunday, July 22. This was made official at the board meeting Monday night.

Gerald Reid, Junior Fair Board president, submitted a budget of $6,530 for the 1973 Junior Fair. As approved, it includes 4-H and FFA premiums $4,400; FFA $15; FHA $45; Junior Achievement $15; Camp Fire and Blue Birds $80; Girl Scouts $150; Boy Scouts $100; ribbons $500; Judges Fees $1200; and miscellaneous expenses $25.

The 1973 budget represents an increase of $377 over the 1972 budget of $6,153. It is designed to cover costs of increased youth participation at the Fair.

Jack Sommers, county Extension service agent, announced that the Junior Fair Board is planning to hold a bicycle race and a free-throw shooting contest at the Fair. These fun-type events are to allow additional youth to join in the Fair activities, Sommers explained.

Alan Wilt and Gene Gustin, superintendents in charge of the Swine Show, received approval to increase open class premiums for 1973. The increase of $4 in first place awards will be reflected through all open class swine premiums.

Other items discussed included the 1973 Fair Book which President Eddie Kirk announced will be going to press soon. All materials must be ready by Friday.

Grounds improvements, including the race track hub rail and gates in the swine barn, were discussed but no action was taken.

Kirk announced that contracts have been let to the Good Hope Lions Club for handling this and to the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club for handling the admission gates.

Senate nixes control bill
WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional effort to take the direction of economic controls away from President Nixon and decree a freeze on prices, rents and interest is approaching a House test, following Senate rejection of a similar proposal.

The House Banking Committee, with exactly half its membership sponsoring such legislation, scheduled an executive meeting today at which the measure may come to a vote, although this was not certain.

Both proponents and opponents of the mandatory legislation said that some version of it is likely to be approved by the committee. Passage by the House, however, was considered more problematical.

The Senate Monday by a 39-37 vote, rejected an amendment that would have frozen at current levels prices, wages, rents and interest rates for 60 days.

The proposal was offered as an amendment to a bill raising from 50 to 60 per cent the federal share of costs of state meat and poultry inspection programs. That bill was passed and sent to the House.

medical services and permit county commissioners to convert county homes into senior citizen centers. Rep. J. Leonard Camera, D-53 Lorain, and others called for reciprocal agreements between cities in the collection of municipal income taxes.

In other developments, Chairman Michael Del Bane of the House State Government committee called for testimony tonight on a code of ethics bill to require all elected officials to disclose sources of income and the annual amount of their income.

A House subcommittee headed by Sweeney completed work on the measure last Thursday. In its present form, it is similar to a code of ethics bill handed the legislature by Gov. John Gilligan, who called it his top legislative priority.

Ethics legislation hasn't fared well at recent sessions of the General Assembly—due in large part to objections the lawmakers have to disclosing their sources and amounts of income. Others have maintained that at least to start, the legislation should be confined to state lawmakers to determine how well it works.

The bill was amended to include judges after they were left out of the original proposal. Besides elected officials, their appointees could be required to file financial reports under the bill's provisions.

Burnett jury trial goes into 2nd day

The jury trial of Joseph Lee Burnett, 27, entered its second day Tuesday in Fayette County Common Pleas Court. Judge Evelyn Coffman is presiding.

Burnett is facing charges stemming from an incident Jan. 12 in Jeffersonville in which he allegedly raped a 30-year-old South Solon woman. He was also charged with sodomy and larceny.

Prosecutor Otis R. Hess Jr. and Assistant Prosecutor Robert Simpson called 10 witnesses Monday to present their case. Witness called were William Rittenhouse, Dale Sharp, Peggy Bryan, Joshua Mitchell, Garnett Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gieserbreath, Deputy Sheriff Roy Clouse, Sheriff Donald L. Thompson and Ruth Ann Rittenhouse.

Defense Attorney Gary Smith recalled Peggy Bryan Monday afternoon just prior to adjournment.

Court places two men on probation

Two Washington C. H. men were placed on probation Monday by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn Coffman.

Russell Day, 78, of 307 N. North St., entered guilty pleas to indictments of carrying a concealed weapon and resisting a police officer. He was given authorization to enter the Veterans Administration Hospital at Johnson City, Tenn., for permanent commitment.

Day was arrested by city police Jan. 6 in the Emerald Inn, S. Fayette Street, after he brandished a pistol. He also was charged with striking Police Capt. Charles Foster in the face.

Frank Groves Jr., 18, of 346 W. Court St., entered a guilty plea to a charge of breaking and entering Herbie's Wine Store on Jan. 15. He and a 15-year-old boy were apprehended by police at about 12:25 a.m. Jan. 15 outside the carryout.

Both men were placed on probation to Sheriff Donald Thompson.

Drivers charged after collision

Both drivers involved in a two-car crash on Ohio 753 at Flakes Ford Road Monday afternoon were charged by sheriff's deputies with drunken driving.

Arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol following the 3:50 p.m. accident were Clovie R. Kinnison, 49, Bainbridge, and William L. Secrest, 26, Frankfort. Secrest also was cited for driving left of center.

According to sheriff's deputies the Kinnison car was traveling north when the southbound Secrest car went left of center on a curve and collided with the Kinnison vehicle. Secrest's car went off the left side of the roadway into the ditch and the Kinnison car traveled left of center into the right ditch.

Secrest complained of minor injuries but was not treated at the time. Both cars were extensively damaged.

Homestead Exemption office open

A Homestead Exemption Office was opened Monday in the Fayette County Courthouse, according to County Auditor Mary E. Morris. The office is located in the basement, across the hall from the county engineer's office, and will be open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday during April and May.

Applicants seeking to qualify for the homestead exemption must file their requests by June 4.

To qualify, a person must have attained the age of 64 prior to Jan. 1, must own and occupy the homestead property, and must have a total adjusted annual gross income of not more than $8,000.

Total income, as used in the application, means the 1972 adjusted gross income of the applicant and spouse. This includes old age and survivors

'South Africa' is topic at Kiwanis meet

Fifteen million black people in South Africa are controlled by 3 million whites, the Rev. Gerald Wheat said in his narration of the United Nations - produced film entitled "Twentieth Century Slavery" at the Kiwanis Club meeting in Lafayette Inn Monday night.

The film dealt with the inequity of human rights as it exists today in South Africa. The white people there, who believe in complete separation of the blacks and whites, are, according to the Rev. Mr. Wheat, "prepared to remain in complete control and use the blacks as virtual slaves." This "tremendous moral problem" will soon have to be faced and solved by South Africans, he declared.

benefits received pursuant to the Social Security Act, annuities or other retirement payments or benefits, all interest and dividends.

MRS. MORRIS pointed out that the income requirements changed this year. Previously, the income of anyone residing on the homestead property had to be included in the adjusted gross income.

She said that only property owned on Jan. 1 is eligible. The eligibility is retained even though the property is sold after Jan. 1. Property purchased after Jan. 1 is not eligible for exemption.

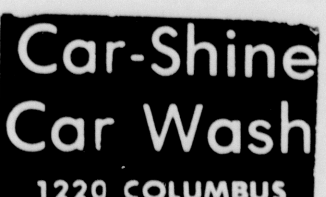

Ownership, under the program, is defined as an owner of the property as evidenced by an instrument of conveyance, a vendee in possession under a purchase agreement, a purchaser under a land contract, a mortgagor, one or more joint tenants with right of survivorship, or tenants in common.

If the applicant recently purchased the homestead property, the purchase date and the name of the former owner must be stated. If an owner has less than fee simple title, then a copy of the instrument evidencing the degree of ownership is to be submitted when the application is filed. The applicant must submit descriptive information regarding the property owned.

Mrs. Morris said the homestead exemption has been quite worthwhile for many property owners, reducing the tax bill for some persons by half. She said the exemption does not place a lien on the property. State income tax funds are used to reimburse the county for the exempted property taxes.

Opinion And Comment

A trend to arrest

Headlines are comforting, sometimes. The headline, for example, that one large newspaper used on a story about a Highway Users Federation announcement on accident figures: Car Death Rate Hits New Low.

Any sense of euphoria bred by this disclosure receives a dash of cold water when absolute car death totals are considered. For the depressing fact is that, while the number of deaths per 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel has declined, the toll keeps edging up. Despite that new low in the car death rate, there were 55,300 auto fatalities in 1972 as against 54,700 in 1971. That is no vast increase, but it is a figure tragically significant to those 600 additional victims and their families and friends.

The price we pay for auto accidents covers much more than the deaths. About two million persons a year receive disabling injuries. The monetary cost, taking into consideration all relevant factors, is sharply on the rise: in 1971 it amounted to an estimated 15.8 billion dollars; last year it was 17.3 billion.

The decline in the fatality rate per 100 million miles must, therefore, be seen in perspective. It is heartening to find this going down — from 5.3 in 1962 to 4.5 in 1972 — but that trend will have to be increased if the steady rise in the actual rate toll is to be arrested.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Teachers' unions throw weight

Teachers' strikes in most states are illegal. Nevertheless teachers go on striking.

They have struck in Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Chicago, and, most recently, in New Haven, Conn. No doubt the teachers don't get paid as well as truckdrivers and construction workers (who does?), but their essential quarrel is with the taxpayers, not with the boards of education that must work within the limits of what city governments can offer in their budgets.

The issue is something which, in the last analysis, should be settled at the polls, not at the expense of children during any given school year.

In New Hampshire the intransigence of the teachers has boomeranged: the local State Board of Education is entertaining the idea of revoking the certification of any teacher who willingly violates the terms of his or her contract with a local school district. Such a policy would serve to keep teachers on the job in most instances through any given school year, and would, in effect, postpone strike calls to the summer months, when nobody is in school anyway.

If agreements on a new contract could not be hammered out in the off-season, schools might not open in the fall. But at least there would be time for deliberation without sacrificing the children by sudden disruption of schedules in mid-term.

THAT TEACHERS' UNIONS have been getting too big for their britches comes out in big ways and in little. A most flagrant instance of arrogance was the $7 million libel suit brought recently by the American Federation of Teachers and its president, David Selden, against Robert J. Braun and his publisher, Simon & Schuster, for remarks in Mr. Braun's book, "Teachers and Power: the Story of the American Federation of Teachers."

I have read the book, and agree that some of its judgments are harsh. But they come under the heading of legitimate give-and-take argument, and, if the suit were to be successful, it would amount to a serious erosion of the First Amendment.

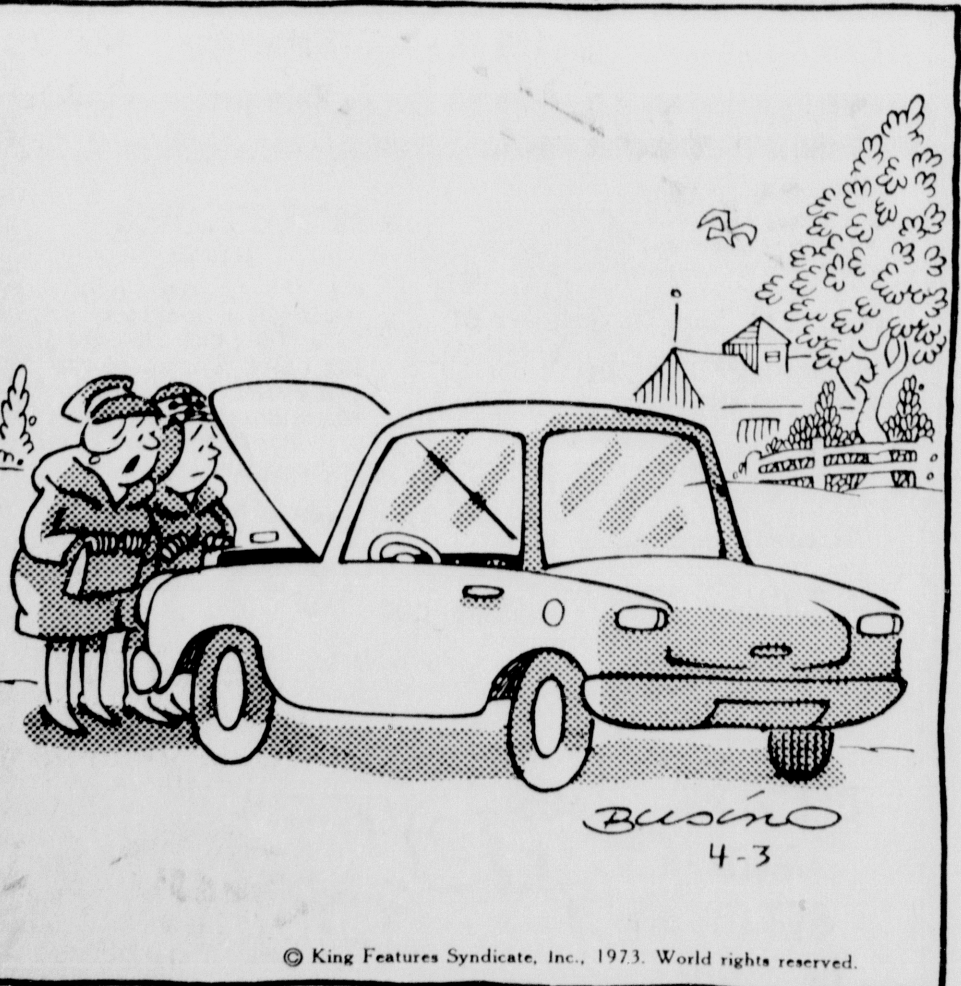

Robert Braun, incidentally, is an education reporter for the Newark Star-Ledger, and knows the law of libel quite well. The Supreme Court has held that "public people," to prove libel, must show that controversial material, when and if published, is offered "with knowledge of its falsity or with reckless disregard as to whether it was true or false."

So what did Mr. Braun actually say?

"JOHN CONNALLY, WHAT SIGN WAS HE BORN UNDER, I WONDER?"

Hal Boyle . . . Remarks for columnists

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a newspaper columnist gets tired of hearing:

"What else do you do for a living besides write a column?"

"Can you help me get a couple of passes to the hockey game?"

"I'm much too busy myself to read what you write, but my wife says that now and then she likes your stuff."

"I already have trouble enough justifying your salary to the business department. If you want a new swivel chair, you'd better buy it yourself."

"Where do you get most of your ideas, anyway — at clearance sales?"

"Do you call Nixon or does he call you?"

"I suppose whenever they get a big grocery ad, you get thrown out of the paper. Right?"

"I guess with a name like yours — C. Bascom Prunewhip — there isn't much else you could do but write a column. But I think you're a long way from making it a household word."

"Hey, Bascom, look intelligent — the boss is on his way in."

"What makes you such an authority on everything? You never met a payroll in your life."

"When you go to lunch, do you ever pick up your own check?"

"Why do you guys always feel you have to find fault with something? If you were running it, the world would be in an even bigger mess."

"I read your column last night. What were you trying to say?"

"Yes, that's our famous columnist over there — the guy trying to cadge a cigarette from the janitor. The janitor is the one in the clean shirt."

"It's much easier to understand Bascom's column if you simply hum 'Onward, Christian Soldiers' while you read it."

"I used to write a column for our high school newspaper. It isn't easy, is it?"

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

What 'counseling' is hubby giving?

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 34 years old, and I am 35. We've been married for 12 years. I am a school teacher, and he does some counseling. About six months ago he started to buy me some rather expensive presents. At the same time he himself came home with an expensive gold watch, some tailor-made suits, and finally a new expensive automobile.

I knew he couldn't afford all those things on what he made, so I had a long talk with him and he confessed that he has been getting large amounts of money from a woman. He described her as a high-priced call girl. He said he was helping her to work out her problems, that his interest in her was strictly professional and in appreciation for helping her get her head together she kept giving him large amounts of money.

He has spending a lot of evenings away from home. Does this sound professional to you?

SUSPICIOUS
DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Not very. An ethical counselor usually charges a set fee, and doesn't accept "large amounts of money." It's all right for him to help her get her head together as long as he doesn't take too many things apart.

DEAR ABBY: A former neighbor phoned me yesterday and the first thing she asked me was: "How much did you get for your old house?" I told her. Then she asked me what we paid for our new house. I was so shocked at her nerve, I told her.

I mentioned we were trying to adopt some children from Korea or Vietnam. She said: "Can't you have any of your own?" I told her I felt the world should provide for the children that are here. Then she told me she thought we were out of our minds to "borrow trouble."

Abby, we lost a pair of twin boys when our home caught fire six months ago, and I told her we felt so guilty because we survived and they didn't. She said we were "ridiculous" to feel that way. I told her we had talked to our minister and a psychiatrist and they agreed our feelings of guilt were normal, and only time would erase them. She said all psychiatrists were crazy and ministers are stupid, and we could get over it if we wanted to.

Then she said: "Bill and I want to see your new house. If you don't want to make a dinner, have us over for cocktails soon, will you?"

I said: "Yes, I will." After I hung up I was angry with myself for letting this nervy woman maneuver me into promising to have her over. Should I just "forget" to invite her over? Or am I committed now?

SECOND THOUGHTS
DEAR SECOND: Don't "forget" to invite her. Remember to avoid her.

DEAR ABBY: Forty years ago I fell in love with my first cousin. I was 17, and he was 19. Our parents (wisely?) broke it up.

I am 57 now, and he is 59 and both of us are free to marry. I'm recently widowed, and he's divorced. We would like to marry as we truly love each other. I am through menopause which means there will be no children.

Can first cousins marry in the state of Arizona, where I live? If not, how about Illinois, where he lives?

WALKING ON AIR
DEAR WALKING: A clergyman or lawyer in your state can quickly give you the yea or the nay.

DEAR ABBY: To the correspondent who said wedding presents were out of style that they just passed the tray and collected money instead.

Last summer we attended a wedding where the festive dinner was prepared by friends who were members of a gourmet cooking club. Their "gift" was preparing the dinner. Another friend donated his services by painting two rooms in the old house where the bride and groom were going to live.

Soliciting gifts of money would be considered bad form in our circles, and we are by no means the idle rich. Imaginative gifts suitable to the circumstances rate tops.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Your Mars in auspicious position. Look for many salutary effects. Day spells action, determination, aggressiveness. Stress your spirit of enterprise.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Stars now promise benefits from past efforts as well as surprising achievement in some presently stubborn area. You can disarm others by a frank approach to issues.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

"Business-as-usual" may be disrupted by myriad details. Do not let this dismay you. Handle interruptions in your innately clever manner. Gains indicated.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Competition may be keen but, where you have the knowledge, don't be afraid to get into the race. Especially favored: research, monetary interests.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Instead of bogging down in routine, try to brighten it with a novel twist. It will work wonders in keening your incentive to better performance.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Especially favored now: communications, travel, meetings of purpose. Earnings can be increased through any of these avenues.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Mixed influences. Some interests seem definitely "off limits," not as colorful as once deemed. Others will progress happily. Keep balance even, attitude thoughtful.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

A shifting of certain situations indicated; perhaps conditions altering. You should be in on the movements, plans. Express your opinions — but discreetly.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You may trip over little matters if not watchful. Have patience and the "vagueness" or seeming inconsistency of things will clear. Manage tactfully.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A notable day for presenting new ideas; also old ones carefully treated to get the most good still left in them. Your talents should shine now.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may run into some snags, obstacles, but you can handle them — and ably. As with Capricorn, pep up and old idea, keep your vision broad.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Day awaits YOUR move. Study situations carefully. The wrong turn could cause a setback, but the right one could put you well ahead of the crowd.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely active, both mentally and physically. You are ambitious and a hard worker but, in striving for your goals, you often go off on tangents impulsively, thus negating previous efforts. Much self-mastery is needed here — especially in controlling a too-lively imagination as well as the emotions. Tendencies toward selfishness should also be curbed before you can fully realize all of your potentials — and they are many! Extremely versatile, there are many fields open to you and, properly educated, of course, you could make a highly successful artist, musician, educator, politician or sculptor. If you choose business as a career, manufacturing would be your best bet.

Puppets used in teaching preschoolers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — They used to say, "As the twig is bent, so grows the tree."

At the University of Akron one of the ways they bend the twig in the nursery school is by letting the pre-school kids play with interracial hand puppets with peelable, changeable faces.

"Puppets may be a way of getting people to deal with feelings that they are unwilling or unable to express directly or openly," said Mrs. Mary Ellen Atwood, director of the nursery school.

What Mrs. Atwood, and her assistant, Mrs. Jean Williams, are trying to do is "to help preschoolers see themselves as worthy, trusting, responsive, competent and creative persons."

"The preschooler," said Mrs. Atwood, "is at an age where he is learning about himself — his sex, race, family, capabilities, cultural and possible vocational role."

Mrs. Williams explained that by using the hand puppets in various situations pre-schoolers "learn that he can control his own behavior."

The puppets are part of a kit developed for a department store chain. Among kit items are cardboard people and commodities which may be positioned on a flannel board. Use of the flannel board material, said Mrs. Williams, gives a child a better insight into his own identity.

"This was not something just dreamed up overnight," said Mrs. Atwood. "It's something we've worked with for four years, and developed these philosophies."

To get away from old racial stereotypes, the background color of the box holding the kit is Lincoln green, and the face of a child of no particular racial heritage is outlined in purple.

The question of racial awareness has interested the two preschool experts for some years. They used to run the nursery school for three-year-old children at Kent State University.

Both blacks and whites, they found, prefer children of their own race in segregated preschool situations out of ignorance of the other race. But, after exposure to other races the three-year-old children tended to drop race preferences by the age of four.

Once, 20 years ago, black children tended to pick white dolls and white social symbols in their play. To a large extent, this has changed. Black preschoolers now indicate a racial awareness.

"We don't just teach blackness or whiteness," said Mrs. Atwood.

Instead, interracial groups of children examine racial characteristics.

Proposing to amend sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, to enact new sections 8 and 15 of Article II, and to repeal sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to the administration, organization, and procedures of the General Assembly.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May, 1973, a proposal to amend sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, to enact new sections 8 and 15 of Article II, and to repeal sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE II
Section 4. No member of the general assembly shall, during the term for which he was elected, unless during such term he resigns therefrom, hold any public office under the United States, or this state, or a political subdivision thereof, but this provision does not extend to officers of a political party, notaries public, or officers of the militia or of the United States armed forces.

No member of the general assembly shall, during the term for which he was elected, or for one year thereafter, be appointed to any public office under this state, which office was created or the compensation of which was increased, during the term for which he was elected.

Section 6. Each House shall be judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members. A majority of all the members elected to each House shall be a quorum to do business, but a lesser number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as shall be prescribed by law.

Each House may punish its members for disorderly conduct and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not the second time for the same cause.

Each House has all powers necessary to provide for its safety and the undisturbed transaction of its business, and to obtain, through committees or otherwise, information affecting legislative action under consideration or in contemplation, or with reference to any alleged breach of its privileges or immunities, and to that end to enforce the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers.

Section 7. The mode of organizing each House of the general assembly shall be prescribed by law.

Each House, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, shall choose its own officers. The presiding officer in the Senate shall be designated as president of the Senate and in the House of Representatives as speaker of the House of Representatives.

Section 8. Each general assembly shall convene in first regular session on the first Monday of January in the odd numbered year, or on the succeeding day of the first Monday of January is a legal holiday, and in second regular session on the same date of the following year. Either the governor, or the presiding officers of the general assembly chosen by the members thereof, acting jointly, may convene the general assembly in special session by a proclamation which may limit the purpose of the session. If the presiding officer of the Senate is not chosen by the members thereof, the president pro tempore of the Senate may act with the speaker of the House of Representatives in the calling of a special session.

Section 9. Each House shall keep a correct journal of its proceedings, which shall be published. At the desire of any two members, the years and days shall be entered upon the journal, and on the passage of every bill, in either House, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journal.

Section 11. A vacancy in the Senate or in the House of Representatives for any cause, including the failure of a member elect to qualify for office, shall be filled by election by the members of the Senate or the members of the House of Representatives, as the case may be, who are affiliated with the same political party as the person last elected by the electors to the seat which has become vacant. A vacancy occurring before or during the first twenty months of a Senatorial term shall be filled temporarily by election as provided in this section, for only that portion of the term which will expire on the thirty-first day of December following the next general election occurring in an even numbered year after the vacancy occurs, at which election the seat shall be filled by the electors as provided by law for the remaining, unexpired portion of the term, the member elect so chosen to take office on the first day of January next following such election. No person shall be elected to fill a vacancy in the Senate or House of Representatives, as the case may be, unless he meets the qualifications set forth in this Constitution and the laws of this state for the seat in which the vacancy occurs. An election to fill a vacancy shall be accomplished notwithstanding the provisions of section 27, Article II of this Constitution, by the adoption of a resolution, while the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, is in session, with the taking of the yeas and nays of the members of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, affiliated with the same political party as the person last elected to the seat in which the vacancy occurs. The adoption of such resolution shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, entitled to vote thereon. Such vote shall be entered upon the journal of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, and certified to the Secretary of State by the clerk thereof. The Secretary of State shall, upon receipt of such certification, issue a certificate of election to the person so elected and upon presentation of such certificate to the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, the person so elected shall take the oath of office and become a member of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, for the term for which he was so elected.

Section 14. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than five days, Sundays excluded, nor to any other place than that, in which the two Houses are in session.

Section 15. (A) The general assembly shall enact no law except by bill, and no bill shall be passed without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to each house. Bills may originate in either house, but may be altered, amended, or rejected in the other.

(B) The style of the laws of this state shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio."

(C) Every bill shall be considered by each house on three different days, unless two-thirds of the members elected to the house in which it is pending suspend this requirement, and every individual consideration of a bill or action suspending the requirement shall be recorded in the journal of the respective house. No bill may be passed until the bill has been reproduced and distributed to members of the house in which it is pending, and every amendment been made available upon a member's request.

(D) No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. No law shall be revived or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, and the sections amended, and the section or sections amended shall be repealed.

(E) Every bill which has passed both houses of the general assembly shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house to certify that the procedural requirements for passage have been met and shall be presented forthwith to the governor for his approval.

(F) Every joint resolution which has been adopted in both houses of the general assembly shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house to certify that the procedural requirements for adoption have been met and shall forthwith be filed with the Secretary of State.

Section 16. If the governor approves an act, he shall sign it, if he becomes law and he shall file it with the Secretary of State.

If he does not approve it, he shall return it with his objections in writing, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and may then reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to the house of origin vote to repass the bill, it shall be sent, with the objections of the governor, to the other house, which may also reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to the second house vote to repass it, it becomes law notwithstanding the objections of the governor, and the presiding officer of the second house shall file it with the Secretary of State. In no case shall a bill be repassed by a smaller vote than is required by the constitution on its original passage. In all cases of reconsideration the vote of each house shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered upon the journal.

If a bill is not returned by the governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after being presented to him, it becomes law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the general assembly by adjournment prevents its return; in which case, it becomes law unless, within ten days after such adjournment, it is filed by him, with his objections in writing, in the office of the Secretary of State. The governor shall file with the Secretary of State every bill not returned by him to the house of origin that becomes law without his signature. The governor may disapprove any item or items in any bill making an appropriation of money and the item or items, so disapproved, shall be void, unless repassed in the manner prescribed by this section for the repassage of a bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL
If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment and schedule thereto shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, and sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II shall be repealed from such effective date.

Tri-county auto theft ring broken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A year-long investigation of an auto theft operation in three counties has led to the indictment of a retired Columbus police detective and his son.

Indictments against the two and 10 others were handed down by the Franklin County Grand Jury and a search for the men was begun Monday night by sheriff's deputies. Several have already been apprehended.

Edward Kleinhenz, 63, and his 23-year-old son, Richard, were among those indicted. Kleinhenz is a retired Columbus police officer who spent some time working on the auto theft squad.

Each was charged with one count of having in his possession parts unlawfully removed from a motor vehicle on May 26, 1972 and with conspiring to buy, receive or possess stolen parts from May, 1972, to July 18, 1972.

Also named in the indictment were: Carl A. "Bud" Gentile, 31, Samuel McConnell, 28, Charles Taylor, 24, John Fetch, 27, Clarence Hines, 24, and Wilbert Mayle Jr., 23, all of Columbus, and Joseph Bennett, 28, of Ashley, Jack Holobaugh, 28, of Johnstown, and William Cruse, 27, of Galena.

Sheriff's deputies by this morning had already taken Edward Kleinhenz, Taylor, Bennett, Fetch, Hines and Jones into custody.

The investigation leading to the indictments was conducted by the Columbus police, Franklin County sheriff's deputies, Upper Arlington police, and Delaware County sheriff's deputies.

The operation in Franklin, Delaware and Morrow counties learned of persons who had purchased new cars, called the dealer pretending to be owners who were locked out, then sent a person to the dealer to pick up a duplicate key, according to the police.

Those indicted include two auto parts dealers and one garage operator.

Marshall Grange meeting scheduled

JEFFERSONVILLE — Plans for serving and the menu for the Jeffersonville High School Alumni Association banquet will be discussed at the meeting of Marshall Grange at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The proposal made several months ago that the Marshall Grange sell its second floor hall and meeting place, also is expected to be brought up again for consideration. Several of the members have said they preferred to sell the hall and lease a ground floor meeting place to avoid climbing the stairs to the present second floor hall.

The master, Mrs. Edward Rankin, said another attempt will be made to determine how the majority feels about selling the hall, and if the decision is favorable, to seek agreement on a fair price.

It was pointed out again by the master that Marshall Grangers have no desire or intention to surrender the charter.

Supply, demand still rules in beef mart

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — With Internal Revenue Service agents showing more interest than housewives in prices at the meat counter, the effort by consumers to drive down prices is bound to have the appearance of success.

The main reason that prices are likely to fall is that the law of supply and demand really does work. When demand is high and supplies relatively low, prices rise. These are precisely the conditions that led to those $4 steaks.

Per capita yearly beef consumption of about 118 pounds today is more than double what it was as recently as 1951. This alone isn't enough to drive up prices if production keeps pace, and until recently it had been. But demand now exceeds supply.

Veal, on the other hand, demonstrates how shrinking supplies also exert upward pressure on prices. In 1954, Americans ate about 10 pounds of veal per person per year, compared with 2.5 now. But production also has fallen.

While there is little question that a boycott can force prices down, there is doubt about the long-range impact. Lower prices most likely will discourage some producers from supplying the market.

If that happens, as Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz warns it could, price pressures later this year could be equally strong.

The dedication of the boycotters will also be a factor. To live without meat in a society that believes meat is a basic requirement for healthy families is apt to produce in the boycotter the feeling that she is sacrificing her youngsters in pursuit of a social cause.

These questions also must be considered: Are boycotters like the fat woman who resolves while standing on the scales never to eat another chocolate? Like the inebriate who resolves on New Year's morning never to touch another drop?

While these questions cannot be answered for a few weeks or months, they are simple in comparison to the complex and imponderable question of what government policy will be.

There was little uncertainty about policy during Phase 2. The letter and spirit of the law were understood, and many prices became relatively stable.

Phase 3 is another matter. Supposedly there is a club in the closet that might come down upon the head of any seller who dared endanger the economy through price increases. But so far it looks more like a toothpick.

Moreover, great doubts are being expressed that the club ever can be of much use. Businessmen and others note that there are simply too many millions of sellers and products for government to watch all of them.

Business and economic literature is thus rife with discussions about another price freeze that would relieve government of responsibility for individual decisions.

In a democracy, the rule of law is a noble ideal — except when that law is the law of supply and demand, and especially when it is out of balance.

2 bills in Assembly will help teachers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Lawrence Mayher, staff director of the Ohio Commission on Public School Personnel Policies believes two bills in the Ohio Legislature will upgrade the education of teachers.

Mayher said Monday that one bill would require prospective teachers to complete a five-year bachelor-master degree program before being granted a provisional teaching certificate.

The second would create a State Board for Professional Personnel in Public Schools to take the responsibility for training standards and certification. That responsibility now rests with the Ohio Board of Education.

Red China using mental health group sessions

PEKING, China (AP) — The Chinese have their own way of trying to nip some emotional or mental health problems in the bud, says an expert on Chinese medicine.

"Many tensions can be relaxed through 'life' meetings held by the street or other neighborhood units in rural communes or cities, to thrash out personal or emotional problems in a friendly way," says Dr. Ma Hai-teh, an American expatriate who has spent 40 years in China.

Born George Hatem in Buffalo, N.Y., he received his M.D. degree in the United States, specializing in dermatology before coming to China in 1933.

"Various hurts and animosities can be dealt with early," Ma said in an interview.

"These 'life' meetings can involve personal affairs, discussions of family problems, or relationships with neighbors. You could voluntarily bring up some personal problems. But if you didn't introduce something that was really bothering you, others might because they had noticed your behavior or attitudes.

"It is all discussed in a congenial way with no moralizing or stigma," Ma said.

"The community approach is part of the process. It is taken for granted you are part of it, part of the family, and there is a harmonization of the individual with the society."

The "life" meetings appear like some of the so-called encounter groups in the United States or other types of group discussions, but with community solidarity begin a strong theme.

"There seems to be little mental illness in China," Ma said.

"There are only two institutions in Peking for mental illness, with only a couple of hundred beds each," he said.

Maybe, he says, a reason for the low incidence "is the way of life, the relationship between people, themselves, their families, and their work. This could contribute a lot toward being a more relaxed, friendly human being," he said.

Jobs are assured, he explained. So is medical care, the chance to go to school now, and there is far less emphasis on the concept of promotions and ambitions to get ahead of someone else.

Whether there might be higher mental or emotional stresses for Chinese who happened to be more individualistic was not explored.

When a group of 11 Americans visited the People's Republic of China recently, one late request made after arrival was to visit a mental hospital. It was one among numerous late suggestions from the visitors, but was not included in the itinerary, perhaps because all arrangements had been made for other appointments.

Mental hospitals in Peking and Shanghai were visited a year and a half ago by Dr. Victor Sidel, chief of the department of social medicine at Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York, and his wife, Ruth, a social work supervisor with the comprehensive child care project at Albert Einstein.

The Sidel said patients are organized into divisions and are urged to take care of one another, with patients longest there helping the newcomers, and with emphasis placed on self-reliance "to struggle against their disease," and to try to understand themselves.

Drugs such as chlorpromazine, a calming agent, are used for the more severely ill, and a psychiatrist meets regularly with patients individually or in groups to discuss problems.

Washington Savings Bank, the champion of the 1972-73 Washington C. H. Independent basketball league race, topped always-tough Wilson Lumber in the opening round of the Washington C. H. Jaycees fourth annual tournament Monday night at the junior high gym.

The Savings Bank, with Gary Shaffer and Danny Mahoney popping in 27 points, posted an 86-65 win over the defending tournament champions.

Leesburg, 65-64, and Haller's Fire Equipment Co., of Wilmington, defeated Superior Carpet, of Wilmington, in a 100-96 shooting match.

The bulky four-game schedule opened the fourth annual tournament and four more contests are billed tonight.

In the opening game, the Washington Savings Bank will clash with Owens-Illinois, of Circleville, at 6:10 p.m., Hill's Dairy Kream will meet Superior Carpet in the second game, Wilson Lumber and Roberts Construction will lock horns in the third game and Circleville Oil and West Union have the nightcap.

Shaffer, the top pointmaker in the Washington C. H. Independent league this winter, bucketed 15 points after intermission as the Savings Bank pulled away from a 34-27 halftime edge.

Three players scored in double digits for Wilson Lumber, led by the hustling, board banging effort of lanky Larry Stricker who dropped in 12 counters, all in the first half.

PUCKETT'S All-Stars erased a six-point third period deficit to send Roberts Construction into the losers bracket of the double elimination tourney.

Andy Richmond and Bob Thompson canned 16 points each for Puckett's, while Bob Barrett hit 18 points for Roberts Construction.

Ron Rockhold's 28-point spree paced Haller's Fire Equipment to its win over Superior Carpet, which was led by Phil Snow's 26-point effort and a 22-point contribution from Dale Jones.

West Union got a 26-point performance from Gary Pommerenck to send Hill's Dairy Kream to the lower bracket. Neil Coleman topped Hill's with 17 points.

Chi Chi wins Greensboro, Nicklaus favored in Masters

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Little Chi Chi Rodriguez has no illusions about extending his winning streak to two with a victory in the famed Masters this weekend.

"Jack Nicklaus will be there," Chi Chi explained.

"When Jack takes a week off (as he did in the Greater Greensboro Open), it's anybody's tournament," Rodriguez said Monday after his onstroke victory over Lou Graham and Ken Still.

"But Augusta National (the site of the Masters) was made for Jack Nicklaus and Jack Nicklaus was made for Augusta National."

The 37-year-old Rodriguez, down to a wiry 120 pounds because of a diet he "hopes will help me live to be 140 years old," came from two strokes off the pace with a five-underpar 66 in the rain-delayed final and picked up $42,000 for his seventh tour triumph in 14 years on the pro tour.

He had a 72 hole total of 267, 17 under par on the squishy, water-logged 7,021-yard Sedgefield Country Club course. Graham, who had a final 69, was one stroke away for the third week in a row.

The challenge, Rose said is what makes him spend extra hours in the batting cage.

"Baseball is an individual game," he explains. "You go up to the plate and no one can help you. There's no one blocking the view or setting a pick."

"It's you against the pitcher," he said, "that's what it's all about."

Rose is determined to make 1973 a super season. His enthusiasm is at its greatest. His confidence, he said, is strong.

"I'm a believer that the only way I can't hit .300 is if there's something physically wrong with me," said the Cincinnati captain.

Spring sports tempo increases this week

Weather permitting, spring sports activity will increase for Washington C.H. and Miami Trace teams this week.

Rose opens second decade

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The years have sneaked up on Pete Rose. Almost without realizing it, he is about to begin his second decade as a Cincinnati Red.

Thursday afternoon in Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium the 31-year-old Rose will be in left field as the Reds meet the San Francisco Giants in the 1973 season opener.

"It sneaks up on you. I didn't realize it until the other day, but this is my 13th spring training as a professional," Rose said.

Despite the passing of time, Rose has lost none of his enthusiasm for the game. He remains brash as brash as in 1963 when he scrapped his way into a job with the Reds and went on to win rookie of the year honors.

There have been accomplishments along the way.

There are the 1,922 hits he's collected, an all-time Cincinnati record, and two National League batting championships.

There are eight .300-plus seasons in a row, and five 200-hit seasons.

"Although this is my 11th (big league) season, two of the last three have been the most enjoyable," Rose said, referring to the pennant-winning years of 1970 and 1972.

Winning is the major goal for Rose, but is barely ahead of hitting on his list of priorities.

"I love to hit; It's such a challenge," said Rose, owner of a .309 lifetime average.

Panther grapplers honored

By MIKE FLYNN

Record-Herald Sports Editor

Members of the 1972-73 Miami Trace wrestling team were honored at the fifth annual awards banquet Monday night in the Miami Trace High School cafeteria.

Co-captains Gardner Cobb and Keith Earley headed a list of six wrestlers capturing coveted chunks of hardware at the awards program.

Cobb, a 185-pound senior who is the only athlete in Miami Trace's 13-year history to gain the equivalent of All-Ohio two years by winning two trips to the state wrestling tournament, was presented with an outstanding athlete award.

THE SENIOR strongboy, who holds six individual Miami Trace records, posted a 21-2 record this season to push his three-year career mark to 60-11 and led the team in scoring with 182 points. Cobb was a champion in the Franklin Heights, Barnesville and Ironton tournaments, placed second in the first annual Miami Trace Invitational, was undefeated in South Central Ohio League dual competition, was a Class AAA Southeastern-Eastern District champ and placed ninth in the state.

Earley, a 145-pound senior who earned his third varsity award, was named the team's most outstanding wrestler. Earley had a 22-4 record and was unbeaten in SCOL competition.

Other special awards were given to senior Rick Cassey, the team's takedown trophy; Junior Alan Fennig, the most improved wrestler, senior Karl Neiswenter, the team's pinning trophy, and senior Jeff Moore, a special award for assisting this season.

Cassey received his fourth varsity letter after notching a 14-8 mark in the 119-pound class. Fennig, a 126-pounder, posted an 18-8 record after finishing 4-15 as a sophomore. Neiswenter, Miami Trace's heavyweight, had 13 wins, 11 of those by pins and Moore served as the team's statistician and assisted head coach Chuck Wallace.

Miami Trace finished with a 6-2 dual and 31-20 overall record. The Panthers placed sixth at Franklin Heights, fifth at Barnesville, second at Ironton, second in the Miami Trace Invitational, eighth in the District and 30th out of 119 teams in the state. There was no SCOL tournament this year due to a schedule conflict.

Receiving three-year awards were Earley, Cobb, Neiswenter and junior Gregg Dettly. Second-year award winners were juniors Jim Reno, Fennig and sophomore Mark Moore. First-year lettermen were senior Ron Bays juniors Gary Cobb, Don Dunton and freshmen Tom Eddleman, Mark Williams, Jim Woods and Jay Crummy.

RESERVE AWARD winners were juniors David Foster, Steve Hedges, Ken Kirkpatrick, Rick Gleadall, sophomores Mark Moore, Jim Mason, Ron Griffin and Larry Shollar and freshmen Kurt Klontz and Don French.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds finish their spring training here today with an exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers after losing to them 4-1 Monday in Clearwater, Fla.

Former WCH, SCOL ace

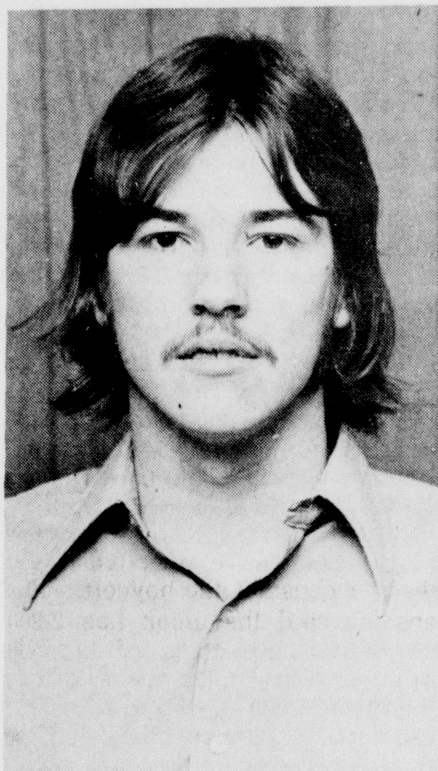

DeWeese to vault at Ohio Northern

ADA — David DeWeese, a former Washington C.H. Blue Lion track star, will be pole vaulting for the Ohio Northern University track team this spring, according to head coach Bob Johnson.

DeWeese, son of George DeWeese, 312 Western Ave., is a sophomore at Ohio Northern University, majoring in history.

The 1971 product of Washington Senior High School, who holds the Ohio Northern pole vault record, established a new Washington C.H. track record by vaulting 13 feet in 1971.

ALSO DURING his senior year DeWeese set a South Central Ohio League record by vaulting 12 feet, nine inches in the league meet at Greenfield and won the 1971 Class AA sectional tournament pole vault competition. He has also been a member of the Ohio Northern University's football team. During his schoolboy career, DeWeese was an All-SCOL split end in football for two years and an all-league forward and most outstanding player on the Blue Lion basketball team his senior year. DeWeese was one of five

Dwight Lamar flatly denies taking money as ace cager

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Dwight Lamar says he took money while playing basketball at Southwestern Louisiana.

"Once this black lady put $2 in my hand. I was on the street," said Lamar, a center of the recruiting violation controversy swirling around the school.

Southwestern Louisiana has been charged with 125 recruiting no-nos by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the 6-foot-2 Lamar is supposed to be involved in 45 of the charges.

"The old lady said she fet she had to help me," said the only player ever to lead the NCAA university and college divisions in scoring.

"I tried to find out who she was so I could give the money back. I never did," said Lamar, a product of Columbus, Ohio, who was back in his home state last weekend to play in the East-West All-Star Game.

"That's the only time I took money while at Southwestern," Lamar swore, telling his side of the story to a writer in a deserted Westressing room.

The player who led the Louisiana school from an obscure college division team to a national major college power in his four seasons talked about his part in the NCAA investigation.

"The investigator asked me only about two charges, about $100 I received after one game and about my mother flying to the campus," Lamar recalled.

"I don't know about any other charges," he said, "but my mother hates flying. She never flew down to see me. I never received $100 either."

"I wish I had $100 right now," Lamar said wistfully, running a comb through his Afro haircut. "I would get my car fixed. It has $92 worth of damage."

Lamar thinks the $15 monthly allowance the NCAA permits its member schools to give basketball players is ridiculous.

"I think they will have to change the allowance," he said. "Some old man told me he was getting $15 a month when he was in school. He said that's when movies and hamburgers were a dime."

Board adopts WSHS slate of objectives

The Washington C.H. Board of Education zoomed through its regular meeting agenda in slightly over 20 minutes Monday night approving routine matters or taking final action on items discussed at previous meetings.

The board adopted a Senior High School statement of philosophy and objectives prepared by a nine-teacher committee in preparation for the North Central evaluation, a school inspection conducted every seven years.

Also gaining board approval were proposals for the Junior High to join the Ohio High School Athletic Association, a new policy for paying custodians when assigned to non-school activities, three teacher resignations, advanced study courses to be taken by four teachers, and a request by the Community Action Commission to use four classrooms and a school bus for the Head Start program.

THE SENIOR HIGH philosophy stresses a flexible curriculum to provide each student the educational experiences he needs to become a fully participating and contributing member of society. It also stresses stability of existing values in American society, and states that the school is responsible for fostering an atmosphere that provides an opportunity for its students to become involved, concerned and responsive to the democratic process.

The nine objectives are:

1. To develop a sympathetic awareness of the problems of the community, the nation, and the world, and to develop the desire to contribute something useful to society.
2. To develop and strengthen the student's ability to meet and solve the problems of life.
3. To promote emotional stability and strengthen wholesome moral and spiritual behavior.
4. To develop self-discipline, acceptance of responsibility and a sense of personal dignity.
5. To design a curriculum that meets the needs of all students according to individual differences.
6. To anticipate within the curriculum the changing demands of our times in order to prepare the student for his vocation or avocation.

7. To emphasize in the curriculum provisions for the stimulation of advanced studies and progressive self-improvement.

8. To develop worthy use of leisure time.

9. To develop an appreciation for the wise use and conservation of resources.

THE BOARD approved the recommendation of the Athletic Council and Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor for the Junior High to join the OHSA. Nestor said that the other schools which the Washington Junior High teams meet in athletic events are members of the association. He said member schools are not supposed to play non-member schools. Insurance is provided by the association.

The new pay policy for custodians provides that all custodians will be paid at their regular hourly rate, plus retirement allowance, workmen's compensation, and overtime when serving at non-school activities during evenings and weekends. Nestor said this cost would probably be added to the rental fee for school facilities.

The resignations of Mrs. Don Kirk, Mrs. Robert L. Kunz and Mrs. Elmer Reed, elementary teachers, were accepted by the board. Mrs. Reed is retiring after 16 years of service.

The board gave approval to four teachers, Carl Anders, Mrs. Jeanne Galloway, Clyde Cramer and David Elliott, to enroll in advanced study courses.

THE Community Action Commission request for four classrooms and use of a school bus is in anticipation of funding for the Head Start program. Nestor said the Rose Avenue and East Side Schools probably will be used for the program.

In other action, the board passed a resolution authorizing the clerk-treasurer to apply for advance payment of $150,000 of local taxes, and authorized the superintendent to sell a 1965 automobile which is not being used. The board voted to accept a new station wagon from Billie Wilson Chevrolet for use by the driver education classes and the golf team.

Hoffman trial hit by surprise

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Attorneys for Howard Thomas Hoffman III, who is on trial for first-degree murder here, have had to reassess their defense presentation in the event that Hoffman's 23-year-old wife, Carol, will not be available as a witness.

Mrs. Hoffman was reported in serious condition at Cleveland Clinic Hospital after reportedly taking 50 tranquilizer pills last weekend.

Common Pleas Judge George Buch-

walter canceled Monday's trial session at the request of defense attorneys.

Hoffman is on trial for the slayings in March, 1972, of his mother and father in their Mentor home. He is being held in Trumbull County Jail under $100,000 bond.

Miniskirt 'returns'

By ALISON LERRICK

AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP)—While the ready-to-wear fashion showings continue at full blast, one moral is already clear: never throw anything out; build more closets.

The mini is back. So is the midi, although you mustn't call it that. Pants are on the decline for the moment but are still available both wide and skinny. And there are several kinds of shorts.

Pierre Cardin, whose new principle is to show a year's worth of couture and ready to wear in April, is truer to himself than most. The foundation of his day clothes' line is, not surprisingly, a black-ribbed wool body stocking that ends up in a turtleneck. On top, a bulky tweed sleeveless dress with large square armholes, dirndl skirt and a vinyl tie belt. The length is minier than the average.

His new suit, also in tweed, has a straight skirt. The jacket dips down in back and is gathered in front. One has large "belt loops" at the neck to hold the muffler in place.

Pants, when present, are extrawide and pleated. An alternative for the flamboyant is the pants suit of many colors. One leg is red, the other black. The same is true for the jacket sleeves, while the torso stands out in purple.

Chloe, whose 180-dress collection took three hours to show, is as retrospective as ever for next fall. Of what it is hard to say.

Designer Karl Lagerfeld likes a severe look, which verges on the matronly at times. His favorite colors are black, brown, bottle green and maroon with splashes of salmon and teal blue on occasion.

His most interesting idea, which will bring joy and money to lingerie manufacturers, is resurrection of the slip. It's printed to match the dress or shirt, which means you can show off your underwear without offending the eye.

Lagerfeld's knitted group is also pretty, if not highly original. Straight or pleated skirts come with twin sweaters, one three-quarter length.

For evening, try a long pleated skirt with a sleeveless turtleneck, wool muffler and long black gloves.

Boycott of meat brings 800 layoffs around Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union leaders around the state said Monday that the meat boycott has cost meatcutters about 800 jobs.

Thomas Ranshaw, president of Local 7, Butchers Union, said that Cincinnati packing houses have furloughed 500 butchers because of the boycott.

Ranshaw said the union has 2,200 members and he expects another 500 layoffs by the end of the week. Farmers are withholding stock from sale and meat processors are afraid to get stuck with cut meat, Ranshaw said.

In the Cleveland area about 200 meatcutters were out of work Monday, according to Frank A. Cimino, president of Meat Cutters District Union 427.

Cimino added that 350 parttime workers have been laid off by supermarkets and other stores and he estimates meat sales are off 10 to 15 per cent in northeast Ohio.

In central Ohio union leaders estimate about 100 meatcutters are out of work.

"We're getting calls from our members," said Ralph Roof, president of District 346 Food and Allied Workers in Columbus. "People are being laid off. I don't think the meat boycott is the right thing to do. It's not going to help anybody."

A meat store owner in a suburb of Cleveland closed his shop for the week. Carmen P. Miozzi said he decided to take off when he saw sales start to drop last Wednesday.

Miozzi said he put a sign in the store window saying: "We support the meat boycott, closed April 2nd to 7th."

The boycott began Sunday and most large food chains around the state will not say how much their meat sales have been affected by the action.

Man slain in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Terrorist gunmen killed one man during the night in Northern Ireland and devastated the heart of a country town with a bomb.

A man about 25 was shot in the head at close range, and his body was left in a ditch near Portavogie, a fishing village in County Down. It was the 756th confirmed death in the nearly four years of communal warfare.

About 100 pounds of gelignite exploded in the town of Dungiven, causing widespread damage on the main street and wounding three girls with shards of flying glass.

Police said a few minutes before the blast a caller claiming to be a member of the extremist Protestant Red Hand warned of the bomb, which was planted outside a tavern owned by a Roman Catholic in the preponderantly Catholic town.

In the Irish Republic, intelligence agents were investigating reports that 95 tons of arms and explosives for the Irish Republican Army were unloaded last week from the small freighter Claudia before the Irish Navy captured her off the southeast coast.

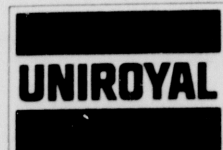

Rockefeller to speak

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV, new president of West Virginia Wesleyan College, will be the commencement speaker June 3 at the University of Cincinnati graduation.

Opening lead - king of clubs.

It is not easy to make five diamonds, even if you see all four hands. However, the actual declarer made it all right, seeing only the North-South hands, and furthermore the defense could do nothing to stop him.

West led a club. Declarer saw at once that a heart loser was unavoidable and that the fate of the hand therefore rested squarely on whether he lost one spade trick or two.

Losing only one space trick would have been easy had West held both missing honors, but South managed to hold himself to one space loser even though the honors were divided. He was able to accomplish this feat by a maneuver known as a guard squeeze, a play that eventually saved him a spade trick.

He won the club with the ace and played the ace and another heart. West took the heart with the queen and led the queen of clubs, which South ruffed.

In Focus

by

Charlie Pensyl

You've snapped the shutter, shot the last picture on that roll. Now the decision is yours. To whom will you trust this roll of color film for processing? Want the best quality you can get? Then there is only one answer: It must go back to the lab of the manufacturer. Kodak film? It should go to a Kodak processing lab. It's as simple as that.

Is time a factor? We have a special courier service that whisks your film off in a hurry to the nearest Kodak lab. Often within three or four hours after you shoot that last picture on the roll, your film is in the Kodak Processing Laboratory safe in the skilled hands of the people who know most about such things. If you shoot your film today, we send it out tonight, it's processed tonight and tomorrow, sent back tomorrow night and you can see your slides or movies on the screen as soon as we open the shop in the morning. How about that?

And for color prints it's about the same story. Much of the color print work is now going out one night and coming back the next. Since it is flown to the Kodak Processing Laboratory in Rochester, New York by private plane, weather conditions can mess up the schedule, but in general the finished prints come back in less than half the time they did just a few months ago. With this additional speed they have also kept the quality tops.

So what do you do when you finish that roll of color film? Bring it to Pensyl's for the best in quality and best in speed. And if you prefer the silk finish on your prints, just ask for it. Kodak does that too.

If you're one of those lensmen who have discovered Agfa film you will be glad to know that we were able to get hundreds of rolls of both Agfachrome and Agfacolor before the price change. There's no problem of processing with Agfa films since the price of processing is included in the price of the film and that processing is Agfa processing (by the boys that make the film). Oh, by the way, did you know that you can shoot AGFACHROME 135 at an ASA of 100 if you wish? Just note in the space for special instructions on the mailer that it was shot at 100 ASA and enclose a dollar in the envelope with the film. See, you learned something, didn't you?

After trumping a heart in dummy and a club in his hand, declarer ruffed his last heart and drew two rounds of trumps, producing this position:

North
♠ A 10 6

West
♠ K 8 7
♥ J

East
♠ Q 9 5 3

South
♠ J 4 2
♥ J

When South now led the jack of trumps, West could not afford to part with a club, so he discarded a spade. South thereupon discarded dummy's club and continued with a low spade, covering West's eight with the ten. East won with the queen and was forced to return a spade. South followed low and won the last two tricks with the A-J of spades.

The Reasons for Infertility

I have been married for a year and a half and have not been able to conceive.

We have not yet consulted a specialist in this field.

We would like to know a little more about the reasons for infertility in a healthy couple.

Mrs. T. O., Tex.

Dear Mrs. O.:

Some people would think that you do not have a right to feel discouraged after only one and a half years of marriage. I do believe, however, that you are now justified in consulting a specialist in fertility even though you both are in excellent health.

It is estimated that almost 20 per cent of married couples fail to achieve parenthood.

There is a vast amount of newly acquired information about the physical and the psychological causes of infertility. The result is that many women in this situation can conceive, with proper direction.

In the female, disturbances in the Fallopian tubes due to infection, or some anatomical kinking, may prevent the ovum from finding its way into the womb for fertilization by the male sperm.

Local conditions and the anatomical position of the cervix (vaginal opening to the womb) can affect the possibility of conception.

A much more complicated problem is a disturbance of ovulation that interferes with production of the female egg.

The male, too, must be thoroughly examined to rule out physical problems responsible for sperm inadequacy.

The amount and the hardness of the male sperm must be studied.

Sometimes, vaginal secretions may have a high or a low degree of acidity which may be destructive to a borderline healthy sperm.

Specialists in infertility now have at their command a great many diagnostic tests by which they can establish the underlying reason for infertility. In most instances, these problems can be corrected with diligence and patience by the doctor and the couple.

The psychological factors are examined as carefully as are the physical ones.

Your physician can recommend a specialist in infertility.

Is narcolepsy related to epilepsy?

Mrs. L. W., Mass

Dear Mrs. W.:

They are not related. In narcolepsy there are no convulsive seizures as there are in epilepsy. Sudden recurrent attacks of uncontrollable desire to sleep occur in narcolepsy. The cause is really unknown, though a vast amount of information is rapidly being accumulated about this unusual condition.

Modern treatment with new stimulating drugs has been used with success in some cases.

Country Club names Miller as president

Roger F. Miller was named president of the Country Club Monday night at an organization meeting of the board of directors following the election of three new directors for three-year terms at the club's annual meeting.

Donald Long was named vice president, and Tony Capuana, golf pro, was re-employed as the secretary-treasurer.

The three new directors elected to the board are Mrs. Harry Thraikill, William Mount and George Walker, the better one of the two nominated from the floor. They replace Bart Mahoney, the 1972-73 president, Jim Vess and Birch Rice whose terms expired this year.

Other members of the board are John Aills, Donald Crabtree, Burnham Light and Paul Thornhill.

There was considerable discussion of adding a swimming pool and tennis courts, but no action was taken by the membership because the final decision is up to the board. It was noted that only minor improvements of the golf course are contemplated.

Also coming in for discussion was the financial condition of the club, which was described as "sound." Dues were raised this year to meet increasing expenses. The new schedule provides: family membership $200, up $35; social membership $75, up $10; golf only membership $135, up 20; and inactive membership remains at $33.

SEVERAL committees also were appointed at the meeting, which was attended by 98 of the 316 members. They are:

House committee — Paul Thornhill, chairman; Mrs. Thraikill and John Aills; greens committee — George Walker, chairman; William Mount and Thornhill; men's golf — Burnham Light, chairman; Mount and Donald Crabtree, women's golf — Mrs. Otis Hess, chairman.

Social committee — Mrs. Thraikill, chairman; Crabtree and Light; dance committee — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Douglass, chairman; men's Night — Warren Pollock, chairman; Ladies' bridge — Mrs. Wayne Shobe, chairman; Mrs. Mac Dews and Mrs. Albert Bryant; golf handicap — John Aills, chairman; membership Donald Long, chairman; Walker and Crabtree.

A covered dish dinner committee will be named later.

Sheriff's cruiser action delayed by commissioners

Action on bids for the purchase of two cruisers for the Sheriff's Department was delayed by the Fayette County Commissioners Monday.

Bids were submitted by Rankin Motor Sales of Sabina, and Carroll Halliday, Inc. Rankin bid $3,541.75 each for two Ambassadors, and allowed $1,241.75 for the trade-in of a 1972 Plymouth. Halliday bid $4,300 each for two Ford Custom 500's, and allowed $700 for the trade-in.

The commissioners voted to amend the contract with Hartley Oil Co. to increase the price paid for gasoline from .1760 to .1850 cents per gallon due to an increase of the price of fuel to the distributor. The firm furnishes gasoline and oil for the Sheriff's Department.

The county engineer was authorized to advertise for bids for weed spraying on county roads. The bids are to be opened at 11 a.m. April 22 in the commissioners' office.

The commissioners also increased the pay of Orville and Richard Dixon, plant operators for the Rattlesnake Sewer District, to $6,200 per year. The increase will become effective Thursday.

The commissioners also viewed a section of Grassy Branch Ditch, located immediately downstream from an improvement project which was requested previously by petition. Commissioners said the petition may be amended to include the additional section.

Salaries, hydrants on Sabina agenda

SABINA — Two pieces of new legislation occupied the bulk of the Sabina Village Council meeting Monday night.

An ordinance establishing salaries and a vacation schedule for village Street Department employees was approved after three mandatory readings.

The second reading of an ordinance which would locate additional fire hydrants within the village was held by Council. Tom Woods, clerk of the Sabina Council, said five additional fire hydrants would be installed when the ordinance is approved.

The third and final reading will be held at the next meeting, at 7:30 p.m. April 16.

Council also heard inquiries from several Sabina residents concerning street repairs, but no action was taken.

Routine bills, totaling $2,742.80, were approved.

Clerk prospect being sought at New Holland

NEW HOLLAND — The New Holland Village Council Monday night authorized Mayor Wilbur Frazier to start contacting prospects to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Mary Ellen Schwartz, the village's clerk-treasurer.

Mrs. Schwartz resigned from the clerk-treasurer post effective March 31. She had held the post one year and three months, taking office in January of 1972.

Gary Kirkpatrick, a member of Council, filled in as clerk at Monday night's meeting.

Several New Holland residents attended the meeting to discuss the updating of the village sewer and water systems. Council explained the project is still in the planning stages.

In other matters, Council approved routine monthly bills.
